Michael R. Mallonee

Do all of you remember "Animal House," the hilarious, often cynical motion picture which poked fun at fraternity life in the late fifties and early sixties? One of the most enjoyable sequences in the movie, in my opinion, was the "road trip". While Delta Sigma Pi certainly does not tolerate or condone road trips with pledges, or any of the other forms of physical and mental hazing depicted in the movie, professional road trips can still be as much fun as they always were.

Most of our chapters take road trips in the form of tours of local businesses and factories. Many chapters will combine several tours in a three or four day trip out of state; in the past few years I have known Deltasigs from Missouri to visit New Orleans, Brothers from Minnesota to visit Florida, and members from Des Moines to tackle Texas head-on. There are countless other examples, but you get the idea. Remember, too, that road trips can be partially or completely paid for out of proceeds from special fund raising projects. And don't forget the CEI points that are available!

Tours aren't the only form of road trip, though; our chapters across the country travel to each other's campuses with increasing regularity, and for a variety of reasons. One reason is the combined initiation. Every spring since 1971 all chapters in Oklahoma have participated in a combined initiation, rotating it among the campuses each year. This spring, for the third straight year, the Missouri chapters are holding a combined initiation—and this time there will be four chapters participating! Last year marked the first combined initiation in the Southeastern Region—with Pi and Iota Mu Chapters joining forces. And last November Alpha Theta, Epsilon Tau and Theta Lambda Chapters held the first Cincinnati-Dayton combined initiation. Sounds like it's catching, doesn't it?

But road trips don't stop with tours and initiations. Deltasigs in the gulf states travel to New Orleans each spring for their annual basketball tournament, sponsored by the New Orleans-Crescent City Alumni Club. The North Central Region also sponsors an annual basketball tournament, held each February at various campuses around the region. And in Texas it's the annual Southwestern Regional Softball Tournament, sponsored each spring by the Houston Alumni Club.

No matter what the reason or the season, your chapter should plan at least one road trip each term. I think you will find them to be fun, educational and fraternally rewarding. Remember that your chapter is not restricted just to its own region; combined functions with chapters in other regions can be easily planned and are just as much fun. And remember, also, that you can cut expenses considerably by staying overnight with your out-of-town Brothers.

Travel professionally—with Delta Sigma Pi.

Grand President Mike Mallonee signs the charter of Kappa Omicron Chapter at Southwest Missouri as chapter president Mike Schonberger assists.

Grand President Mike Mallonee and chapter president Marcia Jones beam approvingly as Kappa Pi Chapter at North Florida is chartered.

Built in 1928, Sicheluff Hall houses many of the business classes at Southwest Missouri State.

The 1981-82 academic year of Delta Sigma Pi will be remembered as the year that a major milestone was achieved. Our 200th chapter was installed and, within a few short weeks, the first chapter of our third hundred was added to the roster of chapters. One of many goals set by the Board of Directors subsequent to the 32nd Grand Chapter Congress held in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1979 was to install our 200th chapter by the Diamond Anniversary of Delta Sigma Pi in November, 1982. This goal was achieved approximately one year ahead of schedule and we are proud to present our newest chapters.

KAPPA OMICRON IS # 200

November 21, 1981, was an important date for Delta Sigma Pi, especially for 70 members at Southwest Missouri State University in Springfield. Heading the installation team were Grand President Michael R. Mallonee, Executive Director Michael J. Mazur, Jr., Midwestern Regional Director James F. Deaton, Director of Chapter and Alumni Club Operations Mark A. Roberts, District Director Valerie A. McHargue, Dean of the School of Business Ralph W. Williams (Memphis State) and Brett T. Curtis, an initiate of Beta Chi Chapter at Tulsa who served the colony as advisor. Assisting were members of Beta Epsilon Chapter at Oklahoma, Beta Chi Chapter at Tulsa, Gamma Epsilon Chapter at Oklahoma State, Iota Nu Chapter at Northeast Missouri State and Iota Omicron Chapter at Central Missouri State.

Prior to the Ritualistic Initiation, Dr. Duane G. Meyer, President of Southwest Missouri State University, offered the official Greetings of the University. At the installation banquet, Midwestern Regional Director Jim Deaton served as Toastmaster and Susan M. Lundberg, treasurer of the chapter, gave the Invocation. Dr. Ralph W. Williams presented a History of the School of Business and was followed by Robert W. Stelzer (Michigan), President of Heers Department Stores, who provided a series of anecdotes about his undergraduate Deltasig days. The History of Sigma Mu Sigma Colony was delivered by Phillip A. Smith, historian of the chapter.

Grand President Mallonee presented the Charge and Charter which were accepted by President Michael D. Schonberger. After remarks by Brother Schonberger, Executive Director Mike Mazur extended Fraternal Greetings consisting of numerous letters and telegrams of congratulations from Deltasigs worldwide to the members of Kappa Omicron Chapter. The installation banquet was concluded with the singing of "Rose of Deltasig" by the 175 members and guests in attendance.

Southwest Missouri State University was established in 1906 as the Missouri State Normal School, Fourth District and, in the early years, operated as a Private Teachers Training and Business School. As the educational needs of the district changed and the faculty enlarged, the University program was expanded with the addition of instruction in the Liberal Arts, the Sciences, new vocational areas and various pre-professional curricula.

Today, Southwest Missouri State University is a diversified, multi-service institution serving nearly 16,000 students. There are four schools within the university including the School of Business.

Education for business at Southwest Missouri State dates from 1914 when the first courses for bookkeeping and penmanship were given in the Art Department. The Department of Commerce was created in 1918 and, in 1954, the Department of Commerce became the Department of Business Administration and Secretarial Science. In 1956, the Department of Business Administration and Secretarial Science became the Department of Business. In 1973, the Department of Business became the School of Business offering degree programs in four departments including Accounting, Finance, and General Business, Management and Marketing and Office Administration and Business Education. In 1980, Data Processing and Statistics classes were combined to form an information systems management department. When the present School of Business was created in 1973 there were 1,600 students majoring in business. Today, there are 3,650 students of business at this institution and there are 82 full-time and 40 part-time faculty members.

Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity was founded in the spring of 1981 shortly after Dean Ralph Williams of the School of Business was contacted by the Iota Nu Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at Northeast Missouri State University. Dean Williams, an alumnus of the Gamma Zeta Chapter at Memphis State University, met with student leaders within the School of Business concerning the establishment of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on their campus. Subsequently, meetings were held, officers were elected and the name Sigma Mu Sigma was adopted for the organization. The members of Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity were assisted in an advisory capacity by Brett T. Curtis, a member of Beta Chi Chapter (Tulsa) who had transferred to Southwest Missouri State University.

The fall semester began with the first meeting on September 8, 1981, and Director of Chapter and Alumni Club Operations Mark A. Roberts was present. Eleven days later, formal pledging was held in conjunction with an Area Conference of Missouri and Oklahoma Chapters being conducted by Midwestern Regional Director James F. Deaton in Springfield.

Members of the colony developed an extensive committee system and implemented outstanding programs in the areas of professional activities, community service activities, fund raising activities, recruiting and membership development.

The installation of Kappa Omicron Chapter was a most monumental event for Delta Sigma Pi and especially for all Deltasigs who were present in Springfield on November 21, 1981. The events of the installation will be remembered for many years to come.

The Hammer's Fountains on the campus of Southwest Missouri State University add a pleasing touch to the campus mall.

NORTH FLORIDA, THE NEWEST CHAPTER

Installed as the newest chapter of Delta Sigma Pi was Kappa Pi Chapter at the University of North Florida in Jacksonville. On December 5, 1981, many out-of-town undergraduates and alumni members from throughout the South Atlantic Region gathered on the campus of the University of North Florida for the installation of our 201st chapter and the 10th chapter in the State of Florida. Assisting on the Ritual Team were members of Gamma Lambda Chapter at Florida State, Theta Sigma Chapter at the University of Central Florida, and members of the Jacksonville Alumni Club. Leading the installation team were Grand President Mike Mallonee, Executive Director Mike Mazur, South Atlantic Regional Director Loren A. Poucher, District Director Roger A. Beale, Chairman of the Department of Economics at the University of North Florida Dr. Joseph M. Perry, and President of the Tampa Bay Alumni Club Margaret A. Poucher.

Following the installation ceremonies at the University, the installation banquet was held at the Holiday Inn at the Beaches, Jacksonville Beach. Acting as Toastmaster was Loren Poucher. The Invocation was offered by Deborah J. Leininger, senior vice president of the new chapter. The Greetings of the University of North Florida to Delta Sigma Pi were given by Dr.

Joseph M. Perry (Florida), advisor to the new chapter. This was followed by a History of the College of Business Administration which was presented by Dr. James M. Parrish, Dean of the College of Business Administration and this was followed by a History of the Delta Pi Fraternity which was presented by David M. Tamplin, chancellor of the Kappa Pi Chapter.

Grand President Mike Mallonee then made the presentation of the Charge and Charter which was accepted by Marcia Lynn Jones, president of Kappa Pi Chapter. The installation banquet program was concluded by the Fraternal Greetings which were presented to all members of Kappa Pi Chapter by Executive Director Mike Mazur.

The University of North Florida was authorized to be established in Jacksonville by the 1965 Florida Legislature. Initially, the university was authorized to offer programs at the junior, senior and beginning graduate levels, however, the school is presently in the process of instituting lower division classes. The University of North Florida opened its door in October, 1972, with 2,000 students comprising its charter class and by October, 1981, the school had grown to a size of 5,175 students.

The University of North Florida campus is located on 1,000 acres of timberland in Southeast Jacksonville. The campus is designated as a bird sanctuary and a wildlife preserve and the land provides a spacious site and an attractive setting for learning at the University level. There are four colleges within the University including the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Business Administration, the College of Education and the Division of Technology.

Two years before the University of North Florida opened, Dr. James M. Parrish joined the UNF staff with a goal of building a career-oriented business education program. The College of Business Administration was accredited in May, 1976, by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, the first school to achieve accreditation in less than the usual minimum time of five years.

The College of Business Administration encompasses the Departments of Accounting, Finance, Economics, Business Administration, Transportation and Logistics. Thirty-eight of the 42 members of the faculty of the college hold a Doctorate Degree and represent more than 25 Doctoral Degree granting institutions. Today, there are 2,269 students of business at this institution at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Initial contact at the University of North Florida was made in the spring of 1979 by then Southeastern Regional Director Michael J. Mazur, Jr., who met with Dr. Joseph M. Perry in order to discuss the formation of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on the North Florida campus. Further exposure to Delta Sigma Pi was provided by members of the Jacksonville Alumni Club and Past Grand President William W. Tatum, Jr.

The Delta Pi Business Fraternity was formed at the University of North Florida in February, 1981. Brenda Elmore (Florida), provided national contact and guidance for the colony during most of 1981 and in these first months officers were elected, regular business meetings were held and an extensive program of professional activities was planned and conducted. Subsequent visits to the colony were made by then Chapter Consultant Mark A. Roberts and Michael J. Mazur, Jr.

During the spring and summer of 1981, various activities including professional, social and community services were conducted by the members of Delta Pi Colony. During the entire spring quarter, weekly meetings were held and the program of activities continued. Two members of the Delta Pi Colony attended the 33rd Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi held at Mackinac Island, Michigan.

During the fall semester, the Delta Pi Colony conducted weekly meetings and a full program of activities and was visited by South Atlantic Regional Director Loren A. Poucher and Assistant Executive Director Michael T. Walsh.

The variety of activities surrounding the infancy of the Delta Pi Colony resulted in its installation as Kappa Pi Chapter on November 21, 1981. The following members were installed: Marcia L. Jones, Deborah J. Leininger, Kevin W. Covert, Martha R. Carson, Cynthia Arnold, Christopher D. West, David M. Tamplin, Jennie L. Smith, Carl G. Stoutamire, Ouida K. Doughty, Linda C. Simons, Thomas R. Callahan, Richard E. Carey, Karen D. Childers, Karen J. Crabb, Robert R. Deen, Christopher J. Dooley, Anthony W. Edmonston, Helen J. Gullatt, Bruce N. Kowkabany, William A. Lamm, James R. McGarry, Gregory K. Obie, Francis X. Perez, Marvin E. Reed, Novelyn J. Shepherd, James F. Sorensen III, Robert A. West and Glen C. Wieneke.

With the installation of Kappa Omicron and Kappa Pi Chapters, the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi has achieved a milestone in its history and at the writing of this article, further growth of the fraternity is in action. We again offer our congratulations to our newest chapters and welcome them to the Deltasig family!

THE GLOBAL APPROACH TO BUSINESS

. . . Setting the stage for the 90's

According to Alvin Toffler in his book, The Third Wave, from the end of World War II to the early 70's, the corporation functioned in a relatively stable environment. The dollar was king. Currencies remained stable for long periods. The post-war financial and economic structure was solid. The escalator to affluence was still ascending, and economists were so confident of their ability to predict and control the economic machine that they spoke casually about "fine tuning" it.

In spite of our preoccupation with Viet Nam in the late 60's, we were enjoying economic growth, a healthy stock market, a hard dollar, and favorable expectations about our future and our ability to influence events. What happened in the 70's to change all of that?

The Economy. Although we grew two and one-half times in GNP, from 953 billion in 1969 to 2.5 trillion in 1979, this figure included about 1.1 trillion of inflation. Real growth went from one trillion in 1969 to 1.4 trillion in 1979. In 1969 the U.S. produced about 47 per cent of the total output of the top 20 industrial nations. Today, that figure has slipped to 35 per cent and is continuing to slide.

What else happened in the 70's to disrupt economic growth? We went from energy rich to energy poor, from real growth to no growth or to negative growth. Consumers moved their investments from stock and bonds to hard goods and collectibles. We went from nominal to substantial unemployment, while at the same time the price of money soared. We hit new highs and new lows, both in the wrong direction.

The Government. During the 70's the U.S. position as a world leader diminished. Since Watergate and Viet Nam, the role of Congress has increased, the role of the executive office has diminished, and the federal machinery of the regulatory agencies has become even more cumbersome and bureaucratic. Major cities have begun to strain under the threat of bankruptcy.

The paradoxes are astounding; our efforts to increase and improve our social security system now seem to contain the seeds of insecurity, as we struggle to finance our obligations. Our new sensitivity to environmental and social issues created such new agencies as EPA, EEOC, OSHA, ERISA, ERDA, and FEA which have increased the cost of doing business in the private sector.

Businessmen, and the public in general, have become increasingly frustrated with the sluggish response of the bureaucracy to troubles in our economy.

The International Scene. The U.S. has taken a beating in this arena also. We lost much of our technological lead, went off the gold standard, and our dollar is substantially devalued compared to 1970. We've witnessed the rise of major international competition to U.S. business and have seen European and OPEC nations invest heavily in U.S. industry, real estate and the stock market. Who would have believed 10 years ago that the highest executive salaries, or the highest standard of living would be outside the U.S.?

“Who would have believed 10 years ago that the highest executive salaries or the highest standard of living would be outside the U.S.?”

Twenty years ago two-thirds of the world's largest industrial organizations were U.S. firms. Today less than half are. Nine of the 15 largest world banks were U.S. banks, now only three are in that group. Eleven of the largest world steel companies were U.S., now only five.

Labor. In the 70's, wages rose faster than productivity, while union power slipped. Work ethics in the U.S. changed rapidly. Toffler sees this as a result of the movement in the U.S. from mass society values to a greater emphasis on the diversity of jobs and the people who perform them. In his words, "Refusing to be treated as interchangeable, people arrive at the workplace with an acute consciousness of their ethnic, religious, professional, sexual, sub-cultural, and individual differences". So, in short, the predictions for the 70's were not realized; we saw the "happiness curves" ultimately turn into turbulence and chaos and we experienced consolidation and concentration.

Why this gloomy review of the past 10 years? The simple fact is that the world is not the same as it was in 1970. "Conventional" business wisdom no longer applies. It's not only a brave new world—it's a world only for the brave. Management must learn to deal with enormous complexities, scarcities and uncertainty; static models are inadequate for dealing with rapid change—change related to gyrating currencies, revolutionary information systems, trans-national production, global banking, erratic energy supplies and prices, social welfare pressures, high unemployment, new attitudes among workers and consumers, imbalances of trade and an alarming incidence of growing militancy in the non-industrial world. Executives are simply not used to operating in such an unfamiliar and explosive environment. Any one of those is bad enough; taken together they are frightening.

ISSUES FOR THE 80'S

So, what about the 80's? Yoshi Tsurumi of the City University of New York predicts that the business environment of the 80's will be characterized by twin phenomena: 1) the management of industrial growth given a scarcity of managerial, natural, technological and financial resources; and 2) the globalization of markets, which will erase any distinction between which national corporations serve any foreign and domestic market.

Scarcity of Resources. Resources will be scarce in the 80's with increased competition for those which exist, not only from the industrialized countries. Not only will we compete with the large industrial and commercial corporations of other countries, but they are establishing factories in our country—310 in 1978-1980 alone, and are competing head on with us in our own domestic markets.

Another issue for the 80's is the necessity for continued technological development by government and U.S. industry. Our investments in research and development have declined recently on a real basis. Our new American products today are spinoffs of earlier technological achievement. The major markets and products of the 80's will be different from what we have seen in the past. Technology will be a strong force for these changes and we must encourage research and development as never before in order to compete successfully in world markets.

The major issue for America in the 80's is growth, or the lack of it. We have a whole generation of management that has never operated in a no-growth economy. Yet the soluand market penetration strategies as well as to reduce cost and improve their operations. Yet, a company must be careful about foreign investments. Six out of ten of the companies surveyed claimed to have suffered from unstable business environments overseas in the past five years. Only one-third of the companies formally evaluated these risks in their investment decisions overseas. One country cannot solve its problems at the expense of other nations. Gain for one is loss for the other—and the result is a zero sum gain. A restrictive posture will only delay technical advances, decrease our competitiveness, and increase the cost of servicing the market.

Growth Through Increases In Productivity. The greatest problem facing U.S. business today is the decline in the growth of productivity. The most recent study by the American Productivity Center showed management tools for measuring, managing and motivating this type of work force. Direct and indirect work standards, time studies, ratio delay, work sampling and many other traditional management tools and approaches which we and other management consultants have used for years to help clients with these types of problems aren't entirely applicable.

A second great challenge to productivity improvement opportunity concerns resource scarcity and availability. It is not particularly reassuring in a world of great instability, international terrorism, and tenuous alliances to note that 80 per cent or more of selected critical mineral resources for the U.S. are outside our borders. We need to find ways to become more independent in controlling selected resources over which we cannot achieve independence. We need more effective programs. We need to think tion is not just the obvious one of finding a growth industry or a growth market. Everyone will be attempting to do this. Further growth requires cash. It eats up profit. It requires a long-term investment commitment. And, long-term perspective is not a traditional American trait.

Growth Overseas. An article from the Chicago Tribune on February 4, 1981, printed the results of a survey that showed that 70 per cent of the 1,000 largest industrial companies in the U.S. expect their international growth to be greater than their domestic growth in the next five years. John Mathis, an international economist for Continental Bank, cites the technical capability of the U.S. and the devaluation of the dollar as encouraging this trend. Many U.S. clients use our European and Japanese offices to develop growth that productivity in the manufacturing sector declined 1.9 per cent in 1980. This problem stems from many facets in the business community today and is a broad strategic issue. I submit to you there are five fundamental changes or challenges which we will have to come to grips with if we hope to make a dent in the productivity problem.

The first is the vast growth in the service sector of our economy: growth in government, growth in financial and service institutions; and growth in the number of indirect and non-production jobs. This factor will continue since predictions call for some 90 per cent of the employed population to be in non-production jobs somewhere between 1990 and the year 2000. The real problem isn't only that the type of work is changing, but rather that we have not developed effective through new forms of economic alliances and secure longer term arrangements. We need to offer still greater incentives for developing new sources of resources and new alternatives for existing resources. Ultimately, we need to consider developing international resource sharing arrangements, perhaps through an international resource bank similar to the international monetary fund or world bank.

A third challenge to increased productivity is the ever-increasing role which the federal government has assumed as a regulator of industry. We need new approaches to evaluate the trade-off benefits to society of more safety, environmental, consumer, drug, minority, antitrust regulation, etc. It is no longer a question of virtue or moral value, but how much can we afford and how fast. We must drop the unne-essary aspects of regulating and move to a philosophy of sponsorship of business, one that rewards investments which create jobs in areas of growth and opportunity and not simply take from the strong to subsidize the marginal, the weak, and the unhealthy.

Ideally, the government should encourage and help provide skill and capital to the industries of the future—the winners—the industries that will eventually absorb the industrial jobs now connected with failing industries. In short, we need a reindustrialization. The government should provide tax incentives that stimulate industries to grow and modernize, fund research and development, and support training programs to increase the efficiency of the job force.

Fourth, one of the greatest sources of productivity drain in this nation is our traditional adversary philosophy: Management vs. union; industry vs. government. The cost of living in this kind of world is horrendous. These concepts of checks and balances are a luxury we no longer can afford. We find ourselves in a constant state of confrontation with unions. We must come to grips with the need to go from a lose/lose philosophy to a win/win philosophy for all the critical parties involved.

Finally, perhaps the greatest source of productivity loss in the U.S. is the short-term orientation of management. When social critic Tom Wolfe named the 70's the "Me" decade, he was bemoaning the rise of a basic self-centeredness that is coloring our social fabric. In a similar vein, the same lack of commitment implied in this expression is now permeating the business world. Growth in U.S. industry is often stymied by demands for immediate earnings per share and dividends.

Before we close, we must emphasize a "sharpening up" and increasing use of some of the most successful internal management approaches of the past—the kind of actions required to respond to changes in the marketplace, to compete effectively and to achieve low cost production. Survival and profitability will go to the corporations who direct their resources to growth businesses, who adapt to the needs of the marketplace, who innovate to fulfill special needs and who produce at lowest cost with the best utilization of assets.

SUMMARY

In summary, profitable growth is the strategic issue of the 80's and the solution is to think globally and act locally, versus thinking locally and acting globally. In its simplest terms the "global approach" says, with respect to business strategy and markets: "Plans to go to the Pacific Basin had better fit into a total strategy (synergy). And when you go, you had better be prepared to 'go local' (people, laws, customs, distribution)."

The global solution requires us to deal with the totality of productivity improvement not just in the plants, but in all of the general and administrative areas of business operations including managerial.

The global solution requires us to look at the trade-off value of regulatory change in a broad economic rather than a specific interest group sense. Global views must prevail over protectionist interest groups; we must consider the international consequences of local and national actions.

The global picture requires us to look at our resource dependency and scarcity and seek new solutions to prevent blackmail or at least minimize the economic consequences of such in the future.

And finally, we must develop and utilize systems and approaches which will enable management to make the proper decisions for the short-term consistent with a long-term strategy.

In the 80's, American businessmen will have a lot of choices to make with respect to how to compete successfully internationally. Tomorrow's management will be held to be accountable, not just for its national economic performance, but also for its global performance—politically, economically and socially.

Corporations will ultimately be judged not only on profitability, but on how they contribute to the solution of the broader problems of our society in a world of change.

The judgment will be based on those who survive and whether they have reconstructed a growth environment for the 90's. It's a brave, new world and U.S. businessmen need a new game plan.

If you haven't participated in the Chicago Alumni Club recently, or not at all, just drop us a line with your name and address and we will send you information about the club. We have a varied program which we believe you will like. The club address is: P.O. Box 11314, Chicago, IL 60611-0314.

As mentioned in an earlier article, this is our fraternity's 75th Anniversary year. We have some big activities planned for the fall so plan now to attend. More details about these activities will be carried in the May issue of The DELTASIG and in alumni club newsletters. This will be the biggest event in Delta Sigma Pi, so make sure you're a part of it.

CINCINNATI

The Cincinnati Alumni Club has had a very busy fall of 1981 and winter of 1982. In November we celebrated Founders' Day with Alpha Theta Chapter at the University of Cincinnati at their annual Founders' Day Dance, held at Georgian Hall. Quite a few alums attended and joined with the undergraduates in commemorating the founding of our fraternity. Two weeks later, on November 21, three area undergraduate chapters, Theta Lambda, Alpha Theta, and Epsilon Tau, held a joint initiation at Tomorrow's, a night club in Cincinnati. All of those alumni that attended were impressed with the initiation and the planning and organization that went into it.

December 9 found the Cincinnati Alumni Club at Grandin House holding their annual Pot Luck Dinner. The food was delicious, spirits were high, and it got everyone in a holiday mood. Once again, Kurt Boveington's water chestnut and bacon hors d'oeuvres were the hit of the party!

Our annual business meeting was held in January at Timberview. We got quite a few things accomplished, the most important of which was the planning of our social calendar for the rest of the fiscal year. The meeting was informal and enjoyable for all of those who were there. On February 20 the Cincinnati Alumni Club held a racquetball party at Pat Matson's Racquetball Club. Everyone on the court had a fantastic time. And there was plenty for the others to do—a sauna, whirlpool, or just watching the games.

As we look ahead, we see the Diamond Anniversary Celebration being held in November in Cincinnati. The Cincinnati Alumni Club is proud that the Executive Committee chose our city as the site for the celebration, and we look forward to seeing our Brothers from around the country then.

COLUMBIA, SOUTH CAROLINA

The Columbia, South Carolina, Alumni Club completed a very successful fall with its monthly meeting that included its first-ever sit-down dinner. Our December meeting, held at the Chopping Block Restaurant, featured a guest speaker—1973 Undergraduate of the Year Charlie Murphy, currently an internationally known certified financial planner. We hope to have more dinner meetings in the future.

Our Valentine's Day-Casino Night Party held at Essex Park on February 13 was a tremendous success. Brother Ed Neeley won the big prize of the night—exclusive TV rights to all future Jim Carlen shows.

Major events to be held in April include our annual Rose Dance and the Alumni Picnic. Exact dates, times and locations were not available at press time.

Alumni club meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month at the Essex Park Clubhouse. Our monthly luncheons are held on the first Friday of each month at the Lion's Head Restaurant in Five Points at 12:00 NOON.

Although the Columbia Alumni Club draws most of its members from the Beta Gamma Chapter at the University of South Carolina, we welcome all newcomers from other states and chapters. For more information on current activities, contact Terry Hundley, President, 123 Mockingbird Drive, Lexington, SC 29072, phone: (Home) 803-359-7437 (Work) 803-256-4949.

GARY-NORTHWEST INDIANA

Hello from the Gary-Northwest Indiana Alumni Club. This year has been filled with good times, friends and feelings of Brotherhood. Our bowling outing in January got both old and new alums together for some friendly competition. Trophies were awarded for High Game, High Series, and the ever popular Worst Game. Brother Kurt Knutsen made the arrangements for a strikingly good time.

Our next opportunity to share Brotherhood was in February at the ski outing at Timberidge Lodge, Kalamazoo, Michigan. There were plenty of cold hands and feet, but no broken bones. The most successful part of the weekend planned by Brother Ed Petyo was "apres ski"—sitting around in the lodge, toasting the toes by the fire and Brotherhood with some Irish coffee.

A new event this year was the Theater Dinner Party organized by Brother Lynda Bodie. Ten couples enjoyed a delicious meal and were entertained by Sha-Na-Na at the Holiday Star Theater in Merrillville, Indiana. The show and the congenial atmosphere made this a relaxing evening out for some of our busy alums.

March is the month with the event everyone looks forward to: the St. Patrick's Day party. There was plenty of green beer served up by Brother St. Patrick O'Pazak. This was a good time for a party, and there were many undergraduate Brothers taking a break from the mid-term blues. By the end of the evening, some Brothers swore they had seen a leprechaun; but it could have been the green beer.

Now with summer coming up, we are looking forward to the next event, the Golf Outing. Brother George Fonseca hopes everyone will make a hole-in-one, or two, or three, or at least find their balls.

Finally, on a beautiful day in August we will be having our Alumni Picnic. Brother Rich Lundstrom, our president this year, and Brother Dave Smith will load up his van with food, grills, and a keg of beer and head to the park to celebrate summer with their Brothers. There are all sorts of activities for the sports-minded, including volleyball, badminton, tennis, basketball and, of course, baseball. Let's hope Brother John Henik, our Regional Director, does not bring his camera along to the game this year! This is one of our biggest family events and everyone is welcome.

—Lynn Riechers

HOUSTON

I would like to welcome all Deltasigs to Boomtown U.S.A. and urge them to

alumni in action

get involved in the Houston Alumni Club.

There is a lot of work ahead for 1982 and we need our Brothers in order to have a successful year. There are several goals we would like to achieve in 1982.

First of all, we have our annual Softball Tournament being held in March. We urge everyone to come and join our festivities and find out who will be the champions this year. Will it be A & I at Kingsville for the third time?

Secondly, we would like to increase membership in our club. There are a lot of Deltasigs who come to Houston so there is no reason for them not to join. Many activities have been planned with one big event held each month. Events include a wine tasting party, fund raisers, April Fool's event, May Day party, community service project and much more.

Finally, our most important goal is the expansion and reactivation of chapters in our area. We are currently reactivating a chapter at Sam Houston State University with plans for expansion at Rice University and Houston Baptist University. We hope to establish a chapter at Texas A & M also. There is a lot of work and fun needed to reach our goals and we need all of our Brothers' help to achieve our goals.

Our meetings are scheduled every second Tuesday of each month at the Steak & Ale on 610 Freeway and Richmond in the Windsor Plaza Shopping Center. Come join us and many other Brothers who are coming to Houston, and reap the benefits of being a Deltasig. For further information, please contact Phyllis Dovalina, (H) 649-4844 or (W) 666-7411 or Victor Tabor (H) 363-1444 or (W) 363-5641. We in Houston look forward to hearing soon from all Deltasigs in the area.

—Phyllis L. Dovalina

JACKSONVILLE

The Jacksonville Alumni Club has been busy increasing its membership for the past six months and we have been very successful. We have had many interesting speakers, including a stock broker from Kidder Peabody and a tax accountant who spoke on the new tax laws. We are planning a cookout for the spring.

We had a Christmas Party with the Kappa Pi Chapter that was excellent. It was held at the home of Brothers Dave and Debbie Leininger. We will plan to have many more socials with them. At this time we would like to again congratulate our new Brothers of Kappa Pi Chapter at the University of North Florida. They worked very hard for their charter.

If there are any Deltasigs in the Jacksonville area who are interested in joining the alumni club, please contact Suzy Rogero at 904 641-4293. We meet the second Thursday of each month at Valle's Steak House, 12:00 NOON. All Brothers are welcome!

—Suzy Rogero

MILWAUKEE

The year 1981-82 continues to be an active one for the Milwaukee Alumni Club. Sports Night was held September 28, 1981, at the Miller Inn. Professional Night was held November 3, 1981, at the M&I Marshall & Ilsley Bank dining room with Margaret Dengate, project coordinator for the new "Grand Avenue" mall, as speaker. The third Monday noon luncheons are well attended with out-of-town visitors, including Dick Heidegen from Ireland and Glen Ethier of Seattle and their wives. The December meeting was held at North Hills Country Club with Ralph Zaun and President of Grafton State Bank as special guest. Ralph had just returned from Egypt and was there at the time of the Sadat assassination.

Coming up is the St. Patrick's Dinner

Party, Westmoor Country Club, Sunday, March 14, 1982; Founders' Day, Midway Motor Lodge, May 14, 1982; and the Summer Theater Party, Helfaer Theater, Marquette Campus, with that date to be determined.

Milwaukee Alumni Club paid-up membership for this year stands at 231, with 16 new members and two new Life Members. Applications keep coming in. We expect the membership to exceed 300. Total dues are only $8.00.

We are very sorry to learn that Harold Moe of Psi Chapter is terminally ill and is in a nursing home in Montclair, New Jersey.

A most cheering appearance at Professional Night was Ken Korn who is retired and confined to a wheelchair due to an accident. He has a most cheerful attitude and interest in the fraternity and came all the way from Racine to attend the meeting.

Milwaukee Alumni Club members were in noticeable presence at the Grand Chapter Congress: John Cerny, vice president of the Milwaukee Alumni Club; Lee Heidgen, president of the Road Runners Club, Sun City, Arizona; and Michael Moegenburg, chancellor, presiding over business sessions of the convention. All four Wisconsin chapters were represented—Marquette, UW-Madison, LaCrosse, and Whitewater.

You can keep in touch with local and member activities by paying the $8.00 local dues and receiving what is usually an eight page quarterly Newsletter and Roster of Membership. Address: Hales Corners, WI 53130, P.O. Box 635. Tell us what you are doing.

NEW ORLEANS-CRESCENT CITY

Now that spring is in the air, we at the Crescent City Alumni Club turn our attention to our annual Basketball Tournament. Brother Louis Lehr is expecting another fine turnout again this year. Our Fall Cake Sale proved to be quite successful.

Although it couldn't make an earlier edition due to lead time for The DELTASIG, we of the Crescent City Alumni Club wish to welcome aboard our newest undergraduate chapters: Kappa Omicron at Southwest Missouri State and Kappa Pi at the University of North Florida.

Looking at the social scene our Social Chairperson Genie Dellsberger promises us some exciting parties this spring. Our TGIF's are getting better all the time with the crowds getting bigger and bigger.

If any Brothers in the Crescent City area wish to attend any of our many functions, please feel free to call either Terrell Ford (day) 561-4495, (night) 504-885-9488; or Kenny Verges (day) 504-245-1600.

We the Brothers of the Crescent City Alumni Club are ever increasing our activities and will continue to provide an active alumni club to all Deltasigs in the greater New Orleans area.

—Terrell F. Ford

NEW YORK

New York is a great place to be during the winter time. Besides being the financial capital of the country the greater metropolitan area has a wealth of recreational activities for those who like the cold weather. Along those lines the New York Alumni Club headed for the ski slopes on our annual ski trip. Although none of us took on the 90 meter jump (at least not on purpose) everyone had a great time. We came home with our spirits (and bodies) intact. Brothers Al Gordon and Caryn Marcus hosted a New Year's party on Long Island complete with an Orange Bowl Brunch. It was a fine way to welcome in the new year.

Professional activities also played a major role in our programming. Aside from the interesting speakers we have had over the past months our tax return seminar was a big success. The response was great as well as the need so we plan to do it again next year.

Another activity we are involved in is the growth of the fraternity in the Greater New York area. We have worked very hard at Long Island's Adelphi University, and thanks to that effort and the work of our future Brothers there they are very close to being a full fledged chapter in Delta Sigma Pi.

The third Tuesday of every month will be our meeting night from now on; the first Thursday of every month will be our executive bar night. Everyone is welcome.

If you are in the New York area and would like to join our club we would love to have you. Please contact Maureen Vanacore at 516-731-6571 or Jean Gallagher at 516-481-7799 for more information.

It's been a busy period of growth this year and we hope to continue throughout 1982.

—Marc Robbins

NORMAN-OKLAHOMA CITY

During the past few months several of the Norman-Oklahoma City Alumni Club members have been heavily involved in efforts to reactivate the Delta Theta Chapter at Oklahoma City University. A steering committee was formed in November at the university, and it appears that the chapter could be reactivated some time this spring.

We are also considering acting as host for a statewide Rose Formal that has been under discussion at the three undergraduate chapters in the state. If there is continued interest in the idea the formal would occur most probably during the month of April.

The alumni club here continues to hold its monthly happy-hour get-togethers in downtown Oklahoma City. Several other activities are also in the idea stage.

Unofficially, there are now about 25-30 participating members in the Norman-Oklahoma City Alumni Club, and we are always looking for more. Just as a reminder to any Deltasigs that have recently moved into our area, you can find out more about the club by calling Club President Gina Burns at 360-0864, Michael Marcotte at 329-8069, or Mike Mallonee at 843-8008.

—Michael Marcotte

PHILADELPHIA

The Philadelphia Alumni Club is in its formative stage. Any Brothers living in the Philadelphia, South Jersey or Delaware areas who are interested in actively participating, please contact: Arthur P. Pasquarella (215) 627-7256; Brian Milligan (215) 969-8763; or Robert O. Hughes (215) 647-0401.

—Joyce W. Warren

ST. LOUIS-GATEWAY

The St. Louis-Gateway Alumni Club extends greetings to Brothers around the world. This has been an exciting year for us.

One of our more fun-filled activities was our appearance on television. The Brothers manned the phone banks for our local educational station, KETC-TV, Channel 9, during a recent fund raising drive. Our big smiles helped to bring in $7,496 from 163 pledges. Brother Weber was beside himself and quite professional when he answered a really unusual call that evening!

The holiday season is long over and while we still struggle with the bills, we have a lot of fond memories. Brother Butts hosted the Super Bowl party—and what a party that was! While Brother Angevine's team lost, we all won with his funny jokes. The 12 foot sandwich was a big winner that afternoon.

Brother Shindel did a fine job of organizing a recent dinner and professional speaker at the Sheraton in St. Louis. We thoroughly enjoyed the making of TV commercials. The highlight came when we got a special preview glimpse of the phone fairy ad. A job well done, Brother Shindel.

Brother Winston had a great time in Tucson with the members of the Alumni Club and undergraduate chapter of the University of Arizona. The Tucson guys really know how to entertain a weary business traveler. Brother Munro of Tucson almost fell in an old mine shaft as he pointed out the details of the big hole.

If you are in St. Louis this month, give us a ring as a great Las Vegas night is planned. There will be lots of food and good cheer. The Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi are truly international and professional; be sure to look them up as you travel about the country.

—James C. Winston

SHEPHERDSTOWN

The Shepherdstown Alumni Club is bullish on Delta Sigma Pi. We are displaying this characteristic in a most positive manner by setting professionalism and membership as our main goals for the coming year. As spring nears, instead of shutting down our third successful year we are gearing up and planning ways to attain these goals, such as providing speakers for local undergraduate chapters, participating in their rush and initiation programs and, last but not least, the promotion of Brotherhood.

The Shepherdstown Alumni Club meets the second Wednesday of every month at the Elks Lodge in Frederick, Maryland. With graduation just around the corner we would like to welcome all the graduates into the ranks of the alumni of Delta Sigma Pi.

Any Brother wishing to join the Shepherdstown Alumni Club, please let us know. We will call or mail you information about the club. Write or call The Shepherdstown Alumni Club, Box 238, Hagerstown, Maryland 21740, or call Brother Bob Grim (301) 655-8926.

—John L. McCracken

WASHINGTON, DC

Most of the members of the Washington, DC, Alumni Club are graduates from the University of Maryland, however, all Brothers in the area are welcome to join us in all of our activities. We try to support the Gamma Sigma Chapter at the University of Maryland in any way we can. Many alumni attended their Founders' Day Dance, and we're looking forward to their Rose Weekend Dance this spring.

The officers of the Washington, DC, Alumni Club for the 1981-82 year are President Joy Tupac, Vice President Geri Kessler and Secretary-Treasurer

Jay Lord. In January many of us attended a Washington Capitals Ice Hockey Game at the Capital Centre. In February we went on a weekend skip trip. Other plans include a day trip to Atlantic City, New Jersey, a miniature golf tournament, white water rafting and our annual summer crab feast. Along with our social events, we are striving to update our fraternity files of all Brothers with their current addresses and employment, to start making plans for a grand reunion of all Brothers from the Gamma Sigma Chapter in conjunction with the fraternity's 75th Anniversary, to sponsor a party for the undergraduates of Gamma Sigma Chapter after their spring initiation, and to continue to set aside money for the Dr. Allan T. Fisher Memorial Fund.

Once again, if any Brothers live in the Washington, DC, area, or are just here visiting, please get in touch with us—we'd love to meet you.

—Geri Lynn Kessler

DIRECTORY PHONE PHASE TO BEGIN

Shortly, the Harris Publishing Company will conduct telephone follow ups to alumni for verification of the information to be printed in the directory tentatively slated for release in late summer. At the same time, the telephone representatives will be inviting alumni to order personal copies of the volume and asking alumni if they are interested in advertising space.

The telephone call is a followup to the two questionnaire card mailings sent to all alumni with verified addresses. If you have not received your questionnaire, please let us know immediately.

Since the cost of the directory is self-liquidating through sales and advertising, these requests are made on the part of the Harris Company with complete approval. These procedures enable us to make the book available to alumni at no cost or obligation to the Fraternity and, as a by product, the Harris Company provides us with completely updated alumni records.

The directory will provide a complete listing of all living alumni with current addresses including a biographical sketch on each alumnus with name, class, chapter, residence address and phone number, and business or professional information where available.

UNDERGRADUATES OF THE YEAR REPORT

Tempus Fugit! Time Flies! It seems like only yesterday that Deltasigs invaded The Grand Hotel for our 33rd Grand Chapter Congress. Those who attended will not soon forget the enthusiasm, Brotherhood and fraternalism generated on that fantasy island. Yet it's already March, and very soon the end of another academic year will be upon us. This is the perfect time to glance back over our shoulders to take a look where we have been, to look around us to see where we are, and to look forward to determine where we are headed.

Your Executive Committee has been hard at work this year. Each member was busy continuing to make Delta Sigma Pi THE Professional Business Fraternity. Among the important issues which came up during this past year were that of changing the fraternity site of incorporation from Illinois to Ohio and that of mounting a major national fund raising effort. Both issues were discussed extensively at the Executive Committee Meeting in Memphis, and were covered in detail in a letter we sent to all the chapters.

The various national committees were also hard at work, looking at the many issues we will face during the next few years. All the committees took a good hard look at where Delta Sigma Pi is, and where we want the national fraternity to head. Among the various issues covered were: the National Educational Foundation Loan Program, long-range financial planning for the national fraternity, development of leadership seminars for regional and national conventions, as well as many, many other topics.

And, coming up in the future . . . we are looking forward to many successful regional conferences starting next September and, of course, the most important event this year, Delta Sigma Pi's 75th Anniversary. If your chapter has not already planned to have representatives at the special celebration in Cincinnati next November, you should start considering it now. This event is coming up faster than you can imagine. You don't have much time to put together fund raising efforts to help defray your chapter's costs.

Now is also the time for individual chapters to give some thought to your past, present and most of all, the future. Has your chapter attained those goals it established during the past year? Sit back for a few moments and determine how successful your chapter was, or was not, and why or why not. It's not too early to start planning for next year!

Set some priorities your chapter can accomplish during Delta Sigma Pi's 75th year. Align them with national goals. Take a look at the following ideas; perhaps you will want to include some of them in your chapter planning.

- 1) Increase professionalism within the chapter—work towards a more professional attitude in everything your chapter does.
- 2) Initiate a particularly deserving honorary or faculty Brother in our anniversary year.
- 3) Increase interaction with our alumni or, if you are an alumnus, let's increase interaction with our undergraduates.

- 4) Send a huge delegation to your Regional Conference and anniversary celebration in Cincinnati. Let's see a personal commitment to attend.

Now is the time to look at the 1982-83 year to start setting your goals and expectations for the future. Let's figure out where we are headed, so we can continue to move in the right direction. As once written, "The only limit to our realization of tomorrow is our doubts of today". And so, there is no limit to the opportunities before us. Brothers, dream greatly and attain!

With best wishes for the remainder of the semester.—UNDERGRADUATE OF THE YEAR 1981 ALBERT GORDON AND UNDERGRADUATE OF THE YEAR 1980 MARILYN DOSKEY

NEW YORK ALPHA

The semester got off to a great start. During the fall semester we had three college-wide professional events with speakers from IBM, Exxon, and the college-placement office, as well as a Founders' Day dinner in which our chapter alumni from as far back as the 1930's attended. Several pledge education activities and parties and happy hours were also held.

Our chapter officers, Mitchell Blumenthal, president; Stuart Nast, senior vice president; Tony Costa, vice president for professional activities; Marvin Schnur, chancellor; Mitchell Mast, treasurer; Ruby Askowitz, secretary; Wayne Moser, historian; Ronald Finkelstein, CEI Chairman; and Jay Goldbert, vice president for pledge education, have led the chapter through what is proving to be quite a year.

Already working on several events for the weeks to come, we hope we can top what was a super 1980-81 year in which the following newly initiated Brothers joined the fraternity: Marc Blumenthal, Brian Oak, Alan Goldenbach, Louis Abrams, Mark Defreitas, Ronald Finkelstein, Ruby Askowitz and Jerry Kim.

During the first weeks of the semester our chapter got off to a good start with our traditional rush program, this year conducted by Senior Vice President Stuart Nast.

We would like to thank our alumni advisor for all the help he gives us playing basketball. Seriously, Mr. Aaron Rabin, a Certified Public Accountant and a student at a prestigious New York law school, has been doing a tremendous job as alumni advisor. We publicly thank him for his service.

We would like to thank our Brothers from The Central Office for taking time out of their busy schedules to visit us.

Needless to say all of our Brothers from other chapters do not need an invitation to come up to the fraternity house for a visit. We are located at 155 Greene Street, New York, New York.

SUNY-BUFFALO ALPHA KAPPA

Alpha Kappa Chapter is enjoying a year of accomplishment and Brotherhood. In addition to our bi-monthly meetings, the chapter has held many activities to keep our fraternal spirit alive and well. In August, our traditional summer picnic sponsored by new Brothers was enjoyed by all. "Homecoming '81" was also a big event with Brother Lisa Umfreyville named second runner-up to the Homecoming Queen. Incidentally, Brother Umfreyville, along with Brothers Sonricker and Weglar, is on the cover of the November DELTASIG. They along with Brother Baumer were our delegates at the Grand Chapter Congress last August. They came home with lasting memories and many new ideas.

Growth and development can be seen throughout the chapter. With the help of our 16 new Brothers, Alpha Kappa Chapter has been asked to publish the yearbook for the School of Management. Brothers are responsible for the portraits, layouts, financial management, advertising, and the marketing of the book. It should help us meet our $1000 goal for our treasury. This would be a first!

The fall semester was quite busy. Three community projects, in addition to two professional tours to Fisher Price Toys and IBM, added to our busy schedules. Much was learned through the experiences. Currently planned events are tours to General Motors and a nearby winery, and community work projects. It appears that we will be having another successful and record breaking semester with new challenges being met.

—Katherine Eisenhauer

SUFFOLK DELTA PSI

The chapter wound up the fall semester by initiating new pledges. The group conducted a very interesting pledge period by organizing a presentation with a professional speaker, giving a party for the Brothers, and holding a raffle. The first prize of $50.00 went to a lucky undergraduate in the university.

As mentioned in the January DELTASIG, several of the Brothers were active in the school's intramural football league. Their team battled it out with the best, all the way to the super bowl. The chapter got together afterwards for a boisterous victory celebration.

Plans were begun late in November to hold the next Regional Conference at Suffolk. A committee was formed to investigate potential lodging and meeting facilities. All involved are very optimistic about providing a well organized and conducted Regional Conference.

In addition to the Regional Conference, the Delta Psi Chapter looked forward to a planned rush party to be held in January that was expected to be one of the biggest ever held on campus. Popular rock and roll bands in the area were screened and interviewed for the entertainment department. All of us in the chapter are anticipating another successful semester of business activities, rushes and social events, and we hope to see you at the Regional Conference!

—Bruce A. Caldwell

SUNY-ALBANY ZETA PSI

Zeta Psi Chapter is once again in the midst of an active and enjoyable semester of fraternal activities. Our year started off with a very successful recruiting effort, and these pledges are now well along the road to Brotherhood. The chapter has been keeping an active calendar of professional, community service and social events.

Our professional program this semester has focused on the coming trends in business. The Brothers of Zeta Psi Chapter have been able to listen and talk to many business executives who have given us a good idea of what to expect in the future of business.

Our community service program has, as in the past, offered the Brothers great satisfaction from helping others. We have offered our help and service to community and campus organizations to attain mutual goals.

Socially the chapter has been continually reaching higher levels of Brotherhood. Road trips continue to be a favorite of the chapter, especially the ones that are unplanned and occur in the middle of the night. The social event of the year was without a doubt our annual ski weekend to Camp Dippikill, near Lake George, New York. The spirits flowed freely throughout the weekend as undergraduate and alumni Brothers of Zeta Psi Chapter enjoyed the indoor and outdoor recreation.

This coming April 15 will be Zeta Psi Chapter's fifteenth Anniversary. This year's formal dinner dance will be held on April 17 at the new Albany Hilton, where we will celebrate the occasion in style. The Brothers of the chapter are hoping to see as many alumni Brothers there as possible to help make it a most memorable evening.

SIENA THETA UPSILON

The Theta Upsilon Chapter at Siena College acquired 14 new members last semester, raising membership to 43.

Dr. Joseph A. Martino, a professor of Finance, spoke to the chapter. His talk focused on the decline of the economy in the Northeast. James H. Tully, Jr., the State Commissioner of taxation and finance, also came to Siena to further enhance our professional activities. Commissioner Tully talked on a wide array of topics including taxation and Governor Hugh Carey's political career. A tour of the State Capital of New York was also one of our many professional activities.

Our social calendar was highlighted by our Christmas party on December 12. Our financial activities included a candy sale which proved to be very successful. Congratulations and good luck to our December graduating seniors,

the chapters speak

Mary Dworak and Tracy Novogrodsky, and also the best of luck to our Undergraduate of the Year candidate, Charlie Faas.

We at Theta Upsilon Chapter are looking forward to even bigger and better things in the future, and would like to wish our fellow Deltasigs good luck and success in all their endeavors.

—Steven Faas

SUNY-BINGHAMTON KAPPA LAMBDA

The Kappa Lambda Chapter at the State University of New York at Binghamton has had a very eventful semester. On November 7, 1981, we were proud and honored to host this year's Area Conference for the Eastern Region. The weekend began with a welcome party, where all who attended had the opportunity to get acquainted, as well as have a great time. Bright and early Saturday morning we were greeted by Dick Parnitzke and devoted the day to attending various seminars where we shared our ideas and opinions on such topics as rushing, CEI, and Undergraduate of the Year. The weekend concluded with a Founders' Day Banquet, highlighted by good food, good music, good times and good friends.

Our chapter calendar has been booming with events. We were very successful in raising $600.00 showing the movie, "An American Werewolf in London." Some of these profits were used to congratulate and welcome our 17 new Brothers, who successfully completed last semester's pledge program.

We would like to express, for our entire chapter, our warmest thanks to our President, Lori Witkin, and our Executive Board. Their work and dedication were greatly appreciated and are an inspiration for our new officers who are eager to promote the continuing success of the Kappa Lambda Chapter.

PENN STATE ALPHA GAMMA

The Alpha Gamma Chapter at Penn State University had a very eventful and exciting fall term. The chapter sponsored several events on campus and conducted fund raisers to aid the fraternity.

The chapter sponsored two exciting and successful events: Business Week and Health Expo '81. Business Week was held the week of December 6-12 and the main attractions were two excellent speakers. Chester Sadlow of Westinghouse spoke on the topic "The Global Marketplace" and G. P. Gallagher of FMC Corporation spoke on "What is Industrial Sales?" Both speakers were very interesting and all who attended the sessions found them to be very informative. The other main event on campus sponsored by the Alpha Gamma Chapter was Health Expo '81. For an entire week various health groups had displays and gave talks on remaining healthy. We were in charge of "Run for the Health of It." This run included a 10,000 meter race and a Two Mile Fun Run and between the two events approximately 150 runners took part.

The main fund raisers of the chapter were a raffle and a hoagie sale. A raffle was held with the prize being either $1000 or a trip to the Fiesta Bowl. A total of $2600 was raised by the Brothers through ticket sales. The winner chose the cash award. By selling raffle tickets the chapter made a profit of $1584. A hoagie sale was held by the pledge class on November 8. Over 300 hoagies were sold by the pledges and they turned in over $100 to the chapter.

Besides working hard, the Brothers found time to relax and have a good time. On October 30 and 31, the Brothers and pledges were at District Director Bob Johnson's home to relax and enjoy the beautiful fall weather. On November 7, we celebrated Founders' Day with several activities. During the evening we went on a hayride and that night we celebrated Founders' Day with a large party. Besides celebrating Founders' Day we also had Alumni Weekend and many of the alumni returned to Penn State.

Initiation was held December 5 and all 12 pledges became Brothers. The total number of Brothers is 54 and the chapter is gaining in both strength and unity. The winter and spring terms are also planned to be very active and exciting here at Penn State University.

—Fred Powell

SHEPHERD EPSILON KAPPA

Hello, Brothers. We at Epsilon Kappa Chapter hope that you all had a profitable fall semester, and as we are well into the spring semester we hope things are running smoothly.

Epsilon Kappa Chapter has come up against many stone walls this school year. We leaped over many, but still more lie ahead. Under the direction of our president, Steven N. Gaynor, I think that we'll make it. We also thank Chapter Consultant Jere White for his visit and advice to help us on the road ahead.

I would like to say farewell and good luck to our graduating seniors: Charles V. Carpenter, Gregory S. Crawford, John R. Funkhouser, Jody P. Mayes, David Nadolski, Karen L. Swanson and Stanley Peterson.

In closing, the Brothers of Epsilon Kappa Chapter would like to recognize Brother Charles F. Printz, founder of Epsilon Kappa Chapter in 1961. He has retired from Shepherd College after 34 years of teaching. He has been Epsilon Kappa's iron fist, commending us when we did well and scolding us when we fumbled. We will miss him around the Shepherd campus, but look forward to seeing him at our summer picnic.

Thank you, Brother Printz, for all that you have done for us.

—Charles V. Carpenter

NORTH CAROLINA-CHAPEL HILL ALPHA LAMBDA

Alpha Lambda Chapter at the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill had a busy start this semester. Spring recruitment brought in a number of new pledges ready to join in the Brotherhood of Deltasig and carry on the work of the Alpha Lambda Chapter. An exciting spring initiation is being planned for the new pledges.

Emphasizing the professional aspect of Deltasig, the semester began with many meetings, hosting speakers from the surrounding community and the nearby Research Triangle Park. We are fortunate to be located near all of the business of Research Triangle and hope to take advantage of this closeness by bringing in many more speakers from the Park and planning plant visits to learn more about the surrounding businesses.

Besides our social activities, we are in the process of planning a blood drive on the Chapel Hill campus in April. We see

the chapters speak

this as a service project well worth the time and effort each Brother will put into it.

We are anxiously looking forward to the warm weather of the next few months for outside activities such as cookouts and a beach trip. With these social activities, many more professional meetings, the blood drive, and initiation, Alpha Lambda Chapter sees the remainder of the semester as busy and exciting.

VIRGINIA TECH ZETA UPSILON

Zeta Upsilon Chapter here in the beautiful mountains of Blacksburg extends its greetings to all of our fellow Deltasigs. Once again we had a great turnout at rush, thanks to our new newsletter campaign. With the help of several Brothers, a Deltasig newsletter was distributed to every freshman, sophomore and junior business major. As a result we have several hard working pledges of which we are very optimistic.

Our fund raising committee was hard at work thinking of new ideas. One idea turned into reality and proved to be a great success, once again proving that business and pleasure sometimes do mix! That idea was a campus-wide party held at our house. Not only did it have a great turnout, but also we made a name for ourselves on campus. The spirit of professionalism is strong here at Tech!

Intramurals have also played a big part in our chapter. For the first time in too many years the men's football team made it to the playoffs and our co-rec volleyball team ranked third in the University. In addition, the co-rec bowling, men's basketball and women's basketball teams made a name for themselves as well.

Living in the mountains, the Brothers could not resist going on a ski trip. We had a fabulous time and fortunately everyone came back all in one piece. To cap off the quarter, we held the 2nd Annual Deltasig Rose Dance and this year's Rose looked as lovely as ever. Special thanks go to the many alumni and faculty Brothers for their attendance. It is very heart-warming to have their strong support and enthusiasm. But that is what Brotherhood is all about! Again, we would be happy to have any of our fellow Deltasig Brothers visit our house whenever they're in the

Our spring term recruiting activities proved to be a great success, as was our Life Membership Drive which was held February 10. We are also very excited about our first initiation ceremony which is upcoming on Saturday, March 27.

Lastly, we want to say thank you for all the letters of congratulations we received upon our installation into Delta Sigma Pi. Also we want to welcome any further comments or suggestions that any of our Brothers may have. Please send any correspondence to: The University of North Florida, c/o Student Activities Office, 4567 St. Johns Bluff Road, Jacksonville, Florida 32216.

PITTSBURGH LAMBDA

Lambda Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh concluded the fall term by initiating 11 new members on Saturday, December 12. A reception in our regular meeting room followed the evening ceremony, with cake and other refreshments to welcome our new Brothers. As the last formal gathering of the term, this was a good opportunity for socializing and sharing final exam frustrations, as well as holiday plans.

Our professional program for this term has been varied and informative with the highlight being a special presentation by Mr. and Mrs. Slesinger, owners of Larrimor's Clothing Store in Pittsburgh, consultants on business apparel to many corporations in the city.

DIAMOND
ANNIVERSARY

1907 - 1982

75TH

November 6, 1982, is the date for all Deltasigs to mark on the calendar for on the 75th eve of the founding of our fraternity, Deltasigs from near and far will gather in Cincinnati for the National Diamond Anniversary Celebration. Little did our Founders know that, 75 years after they established Delta Sigma Pi at New York University, an international fraternity with more than 107,000 members and more than 200 chapters in North America would result.

Cincinnati, home of the Reds and the Bengals, has been chosen as the city to host the gathering of Deltasigs celebrating 75 years of Brotherhood. Situated on the banks of the mighty Ohio River, Cincinnati is a city of contrasts. Reflecting the European heritage of many of her residents, fine restaurants, decorative buildings and squares laid out along irregularly patterned streets and numerous cultural facilities abound. Although generally considered to be a northern metropolis, Cincinnati reflects much of the south as evidenced by the riverboat sternwheelers available on the Ohio for sightseeing and for dinner cruises and the New Orleans style jazz offered by many nightspots in the Mount Adams area.

Cincinnati is a conservative populace, but amenable to change. Throughout the hills of the city, gleaming modern buildings and older ones bearing National Historic Register plaques exist side by side.

With the wide selection of attractions from museums to amusement parks to breathtaking views from hillside parks it would appear to be somewhat difficult to find a central gathering spot in Cincinnati, but there is at Fountain Square and our Diamond Anniversary hotel forms one of the sides of the focal point of the Queen City of the Ohio River.

Fountain Square is the scene of outdoor concerts in summer, ethnic festivals in fall and during the colder months it becomes a winter wonderland.

The Westin Hotel on Fountain

Square will host the Diamond Anniversary of Delta Sigma Pi on the weekend of November 6-7, 1982. The Westin offers 460 spacious guest rooms set in a contemporary 17 story tower with a four story atrium. The atrium forms a focal point of the hotel with a variety of fine shops and restaurants. In addition, the city's Skywalk, a multi-block covered walkway, connects the Westin with some of the finest shopping and dining in the Midwest.

ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

A summarized tentative program appears in this issue of the magazine. Participants will want to arrive on Friday, November 5, 1982, or early on Saturday, November 6, 1982. Registration will open early on Saturday morning. During the late morning and afternoon hours, tour busses will leave The Westin for trips to the northwest to the city of Oxford, home of The Central Office. You will have the opportunity to tour the International Headquarters of the fraternity and to participate in special festivities.

Returning to The Westin, participants will have the opportunity to relax before the pre-banquet reception. During the reception, you will have the opportunity to meet leaders of the fraternity both past and present and to meet Deltasigs from across the land.

The Diamond Anniversary Banquet will be an elegant event and will feature a program certain to interest and touch the fraternal spirit of Deltasigs of all ages, chapters and regions. The banquet will be followed by a dance leading to the magical stroke of midnight when Delta Sigma Pi becomes 75 years old.

REGISTRATION

An advance registration form appears in this issue of the magazine.

Registration at The Westin Hotel on November 6, 1982, will cost an additional $5.00 above the advance registration fee.

Cancellation in writing received prior to October 22, 1982, will incur a $5.00 per person handling fee. No refund on cancellations will be made after October 22, 1982. Transfer of registration will incur a $5.00 handling fee.

The registration fee for members includes a commemorative medalion, reception, banquet and dance.

Be in Cincinnati to share the fraternalism, to form new fraternal friendships, and to renew those which were formed over the years!

Those who register for the Diamond Anniversary Celebration will receive detailed information concerning transportation options, dress requirements, climate, available activities and other necessary details.

the chapters speak

Currently our recruitment program is well under way, with our winter smoker scheduled for March 26 at the University Inn in Oakland. This is our second year of recruiting both night and day students (formerly we were just night students), and we are excited about the diversification this unique situation provides. We're confident that we will be successful in recruiting the quality of members that keeps our chapter outstanding.

We're now looking forward to our spring banquet to be held at the Top of the Triangle, overlooking downtown Pittsburgh, at the end of May. On that occasion we will be presenting our annual awards, and paying special tribute to our Brother, Dr. Robert Agnew, who will be retiring from the University faculty at the end of this term. All of us who have known him as a Brother, an instructor and a friend are sure we'll still see Dr. Agnew at fraternity and University functions, because there's one thing certain about "Doc"—he always cares.

—Michael Dennison

OHIO STATE NU

The Nu Chapter had a full calendar this past winter quarter. One of the major events was the installation of the new officers. Many thanks were given to the past executive committee for a job well done, and congratulations to the new officers. Professional activities consisted of many interesting speakers and tours. Touring the Nationwide building was one of the highlights.

The Nu Chapter proudly initiated nine new members this past January, who have already given freely of themselves to their fraternity. We are now busy with our new pledge class which is looking forward to initiation on May 22, 1982.

On the subject of service projects, the Nu Chapter shared their Christmas spirit with the residents of a nursing home this past December by singing Christmas carols. Credit card application booths were manned by Nu Chapter members, and proceeds were given to the United Way.

On the social side, the Nu Chapter celebrated its birthday this past December, complete with streamers, balloons and cake! Autumn quarter graduates were given a big send off at the South Station following their final meeting as undergraduates. The best of luck to each and everyone of them! They are all looking forward to joining their Brothers again at the annual Rose Formal, which will be held on May 8, 1982. Best wishes are extended from the Nu Chapter to all Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi!

CINCINNATI ALPHA THETA

Alpha Theta Chapter at the University of Cincinnati had its "Meet the Chapter Night" on January 12. The Dean of the Business College spoke to over 75 prospective members during this get-acquainted night. A wine and cheese party was held the following week for our potential members at which an open invitation to all business meetings was extended.

In early January a belated New Year's Party was given by last quarter's pledge class, a most enjoyable evening. February 23 marked the First Annual Bowling Tournament for members and pledges held at the Student Union Building. Trophies were awarded to individuals and teams with the highest averages.

Professional activities included several prestigious speakers from the greater Cincinnati area. Topics varied from "Starting Your Own Business" to "Planning for Retirement."

Members of Alpha Theta Chapter acted as an advisory board for Junior Achievement. The J.A. fund raising project included selling certificates of stock and decorative Christmas toilet seat covers. The Brothers of the chapter worked with the Southwestern Ohio Lung Association's "Christmas Seals" at Cincinnati area malls.

Alpha Theta Chapter sponsored a campus-wide "Secret Admirers Day" on March 5. Chapter members sold various colors of flowers, depending on the degree of admiration the sender wished to display. These flowers were then delivered by Deltasigs so that the sender would remain anonymous. This was a very successful fund raiser and it generated a great amount of publicity for our chapter.

At our recent initiation 18 members were initiated into the Alpha Theta Chapter. We welcome our new members and hope to see you all at our Birthday Picnic and Golf Tournament in May.

—Stephanie Kanistros

MIAMI-OHIO ALPHA UPSILON

Alpha Upsilon Chapter showed what is "new in '82" by having a remarkable start in the spring semester. With all 55 Brothers willing and enthusiastic, our chapter has accomplished many goals already this year.

Polly Pience has done an outstanding job as the new vice president for professional activities. She has organized several speakers including Theta Lambda Chapter Advisor Mary Rose Boyle. We have taken a number of excellent tours such as a visit to Montgomery Ward and Avon. At the present time, plans are being made for a trip to Washington, DC, in early fall.

After two weeks of rush activities, we asked a number of good candidates to pledge Delta Sigma Pi. A big "thanks" goes to Sarah Graves for her endless hours of work on rush.

Lastly, Alpha Upsilon Chapter was proud to have hosted the Area Conference in February. It was extremely informative and all attending chapters had a spectacular time. A post-conference "Beach Party" was enjoyed by everyone, and further strengthened our ties of Brotherhood with other chapters. Thanks to Carolyn Walsh, the Area Conference was a tremendous success.

Good luck to all of our Brothers in 1982 and remember—Alpha Upsilon Chapter is back!

—Kevin M. Sypolt

KENT STATE BETA PI

Another semester has gone by and Beta Pi Chapter at Kent State University has been very active. The Brothers of the chapter put together a good recruitment program and we initiated 22 new Brothers. Our number is now 51 and together we have held many successful projects.

One of the projects was to assemble the lockers which we donated to the College of Business Administration for the use of commuter students. Another was a program we sponsored entitled "The Transition From College to Work." Three panelists commented on such topics as career planning, resumes, interviews and how to succeed once hired. This informative program was open to the public and was well attended by the Brothers and the campus community at large.

The Founders' Day banquet was interesting and a good time was had by all. Many of the faculty at Kent State are Brothers and we had a wine and cheese party as an opportunity to get to know them better. Other activities included a substantial donation to the street-lighting project in the city of Kent, and a donation to a train station renovation by the Kent Historical Society.

For a road trip, some of the Brothers visited Lambda Chapter at the University of Pittsburgh for the Cleveland Browns-Pittsburgh Steelers football game. They had a good time with the Pittsburgh Brothers, and President Dale Konicek won the much coveted door prize (among the Pittsburghers) of a football signed by all of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Our Winter Formal was one of the highlights of the semester. We enjoyed an excellent dinner where we had a chance to talk with the faculty once again. This was followed by an evening of dancing and good times by students and faculty alike. After exams we held a party in honor of the December graduating seniors. It was a fond farewell to our graduating Brothers, beset with memories, well wishes and, of course, tears.

After such an exciting semester how does one wrap it all up? Well, we are looking forward to an even better spring semester and all the activities to come. We are well on the way towards achieving 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index and are confident we will achieve this. So until next time we are—flying high with Beta Pi!

DAYTON EPSILON TAU

After a busy and successful semester, the Brothers of Epsilon Tau Chapter are well on their way to achieving 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index for the second year in a row after reactivation. Very profitable fund raisers, a Halloween costume party, a Founders' Day celebration, tours and speakers, and pledging activities have all been part of an active and rewarding semester.

Excellent recruitment efforts brought in 12 pledges who were initiated on November 21, 1981. Initiation was held at Tomorrows in Cincinnati with the University of Cincinnati Alpha Theta Chapter and Xavier University Theta Lambda Chapter and all who attended had a wonderful time. The 12 new Brothers are promising assets to Epsilon Tau Chapter.

Brothers shared their Christmas spirit with a progressive dinner and a Christmas party on December 7, 1981. The following day Brothers participated in the University of Dayton's Christmas on Campus celebration.

Many exciting events, including a debate series with the University, were planned for the 1982 semester.

AKRON THETA KAPPA

Theta Kappa Chapter at the University of Akron is once again having a successful year. This year, Theta Kappa Chapter is involved in community activities. Hopefully, the chapter is going to try two or three of these service projects each semester. Last semester we helped the Jaycees out with their annual community Halloween party. For November we planned a casino night with a local nursing home. Theta Kappa Chapter feels that this service can be a major asset to their fraternity.

The chapter initiated 13 new members during the fall semester. This is one of the largest classes Theta Kappa Chapter has had. The pledges were involved in the Founders' Day celebration, and planned a professional activity for the chapter. The initiation was on December 5. Jan Reimer, the pledge class president, and Pete Swanson were voted "Pledges of the Semester." After the formal initiation, Theta Kappa Chapter planned a banquet. This was something new for our chapter, with the alumni being invited back. We hoped this would give a chance for the new Brothers to relax and enjoy finally becoming a Deltasig.

Our spring semester is going along well so far. The chapter, along with two other business organizations, sponsored "Dress for Success," a fashion show geared for the business graduate. It was for both men and women. This semester for the first time the Theta Kappa Chapter had a special "Meet the Chapter Night." It was a special event that allowed the students in the Business College to meet all the members of Theta Kappa Chapter. It turned out really well, and we hope to continue it in the future.

We are hoping again for another 100,000 point year like last year.

BOWLING GREEN STATE THETA PI

Theta Pi Chapter had a very busy and successful fall quarter. We ended the quarter by welcoming 18 new members into our chapter. We were pleased to have several Brothers from Ohio State, Akron and Dayton chapters present for our initiation day activities. We held our traditional banquet, and finished off the day with a celebration party in honor of our newest members.

Our chapter was honored to introduce a new event which will hopefully become a new tradition in our College of Business. We sponsored a parent/student/faculty breakfast in conjunction with our University's annual Parents' Day. The business students and their parents were invited to come meet and talk with the faculty staff. The event was a huge success as it gave the parents the opportunity to see what the College of Business is all about.

Some of our other professional activities were two "Day in Business" tours. The first tour was to the Dana Corporation in Toledo. Near the end of the quarter, we had a tour to the Plain Dealer, a newspaper in Cleveland. They were both excellent tours and informative for all those who attended.

Mr. Steve Cashdollar from the Merrill Lynch Company came to speak to our chapter about the fundamentals of the stock market. The topic was very interesting and the members thoroughly enjoyed it.

As a fund raiser our chapter conducted a Sears credit card drive. For each application we turned in, we received a contribution of $1.00 from Sears. This project turned out to be one of our biggest money makers.

We also held an interview seminar near the end of the quarter. We had five recruiters come in and discuss their positions, and what they look for in their interviews. The recruiters brought up some good points, and tried their best to answer all the questions from the audience. The seminar was very worthwhile, and we hope to have many more in the future.

the chapters speak

In the social limelight, we had our annual faculty football game. The game was followed by a party with the faculty members. We had a good faculty turnout, and everyone had a great time. Our interaction with the faculty has become much better in the last few years, and we plan to have this trend continue.

In conclusion, the Brothers of Theta Pi Chapter would like to wish all Deltasigs the best of luck in all their activities for the remainder of the year.

ROBERT MORRIS IOTA TAU

Iota Tau Chapter has no bounds to its enthusiasm! Soon after returning from a long and much needed Christmas break, Iota Tau Chapter sponsored its first Parents' Day on Saturday, January 16. All of the parents of our Brothers and alumni were invited to Robert Morris College for a day of information and fun. Presentations were made concerning professional and community service activities, as well as giving a general background of the fraternity. Dinner followed later that evening. This event enabled parents to have an opportunity to see exactly what kind of organization their son or daughter is involved in. Parents' Day was a success and will be repeated in the future to expand Delta Sigma Pi professionalism and awareness.

Iota Tau Chapter was also honored to be host to our Area Conference on February 13. Many chapters in the area were involved in various workshops and heard speakers on many interesting subjects.

The Brothers continued to show their support of the Muscular Dystrophy Association by sponsoring the 3rd Annual Pizza Eating Contest on Tuesday, February 9, and by the monthly door-to-door collections in the surrounding community.

Once again we experienced great success with our Robert Morris campus clean-up, blood drive, and book exchange. We would like to thank all of the Brothers who helped get the first part of this new semester off to a great start.

WAYNE STATE-MICHIGAN GAMMA THETA

The Brothers of Gamma Theta Chapter are now halfway through the winter semester and are as busy as ever. With the help of 14 new members initiated at the end of the fall semester, we began the new year with another successful recruiting program. In late January, many of the Brothers of our chapter hit the slopes of Blue Mountain in Canada to pursue some ever-elusive leisure time. A visit to The Central office shortly afterward proved to be very informative and allowed us to see the "heart" of Delta Sigma Pi.

Three offices were vacated at the end of the fall semester due to graduating seniors. The new officers and their respective offices are as follows: Kathi Heller, CEI chairman; Karen Krasko, vice president for pledge education; and Derrick Morgan, chancellor. They are all doing a super job in their respective offices.

By unanimous vote our new Undergraduate of the Year is Eric Walters, now graduated. The Brothers of Gamma Theta Chapter would like to congratulate Eric and wish him success in his career ventures. Speaking of careers, our Vice President for Pledge Education Kevin Popis has been keeping Gamma Theta Chapter in stride with the job market, thanks to a variety of guest speakers and professional activities. All in all, Gamma Theta Chapter has been keeping the winter blues at a distance thanks to a full social and professional calendar. See you in the spring!

—Jackie Graham

Chapter would like to thank its previous officers for a job well done.

Fun in the sun was what many students of Ferris State had as Delta Rho Chapter hosted its sixth Florida Trip to Daytona Beach. Brothers and students left an icy cold Michigan on February 19 to enjoy seven sunny days in Florida. The trip included an unbeatable price combined with reservations for a week at the Plaza Hotel. Florida Trip is just one of the ways in which the Brothers gain valuable business experience while having an excellent time.

Delta Rho Chapter was honored by the United Way and the Big Rapids community as the leading organization in a fund drive. Almost $300 was raised which went directly to the Big Rapids Cancer Fund. A skating party for the Big Brothers and Sisters of Mecosta County was also held.

This year's Christmas dance could only be described one way—superb. The Brothers and their dates danced to lively music and Brother Tom Simpson put forth a special effort by singing a few songs to give the dance a personal touch.

The Delta Rho Deltasigs are looking forward to a continuous year of fun and prosperity. Our two annual spring events, Career Day and Rose Ball, are being prepared. Both appear to be ready. Professional activities have also been discussed. We have many more events planned for the rest of this year and we are looking forward to obtaining 100,000 Chapter Efficiency Index points.

EASTERN MICHIGAN ETA PHI

Eta Phi Chapter congratulates its seven new Brothers initiated on December 13, 1981: Bradley Wright, Lisa Coleman, Arnold Smith, Jr., Curtis Crowell, Mary Hearn, Jackie Saffold and Kimberlee Chapman. With an entire slate of new officers elected for the 1982 winter term, the chapter is concerning itself with rebuilding through the employment of a multi-tiered recruiting program and the establishment of a strong financial base.

Addressing the Brothers and the faculty at the season's final business meeting, President-elect Elliot Allen stated, "A complete reorganization of the chapter's internal committee structure is a must if we are to meet the goals and objectives of our rebuilding plans." The Brothers are also expecting a boost in ideas and direction from Eric J. Stanberry, recently appointed as Chapter Advisor. Eric J. Stanberry is a CPA alumnus of Arthur Andersen & Company and presently a third year law student at the University of Michigan. Eric became a Brother through the Eta Phi Chapter in the fall of 1974, is a partner in a Detroit area based real estate firm, and has affiliations with several other businesses in Southeastern Michigan. Eric stated that he "looks forward to partaking in business adventures with such a fine young group of serious-minded students".

Outgoing President Randall Black made a head start toward assuring that the financial goals and objectives set for the winter term were met by sponsoring a "Happy New Year T-Shirt Sale" in his hometown over the Christmas break. Randall stated "as with past fund raising activities, a certain percentage of the proceeds will be donated to a local charity and the remaining proceeds will be used to finance larger scale business ventures that are expected to yield greater returns."

Other chapter matters include the Brothers' participation in local breakfast programs, Sears' credit card application sales, bake sales, joint sponsored teas with other university fraternities, and a host of other business as well as social activities.

Lastly, the Brothers of Eta Phi Chapter wish all other chapters of Delta Sigma Pi a prosperous and successful year in 1982.

Right before Christmas our chapter went carolling at St. Anne's Home, and later attended a Christmas party given by one of our Brothers. This combination of a community service project with a social activity afterwards went over well.

Spring semester has started off great! During registration in January we used the idea of setting up a coffee table to attract and talk with prospective members. This proved to be very successful for us. Sunday, January 31, was the day for our "Meet the Chapter" functions, with February 5 being the date of our recruiting party. We then had our pledge ceremony on February 14. All in all, things are going smoothly this semester for the Iota Lambda Chapter.

NORTHERN ILLINOIS ETA MU

The Eta Mu Chapter had a very busy fall semester. For Founders' Day we had a '50's party. Regional Director Anthony Fernandez attended the festivities and taught us how to twist.

On December 2, we held a Faculty Holiday Reception. Guest speaker was Thomas Mocella, Past Grand President. Through the efforts of Senior Vice President Kathleen Jahnke and her committee, the evening was enjoyed by all. On December 4, we took a tour of the Board of Trade in Chicago. The tour was very informative and interesting. Following the tour, we met with some Brothers from the Gamma Pi Chapter, Loyola-Chicago. They made us feel very welcome.

Our big fund raiser for the semester was distributing Sears' credit card applications. We made a profit on each application we turned in. Brothers Barb Husemann and Sue Simcich worked very hard and made the fund raiser a big success.

The semester culminated in a combined Christmas-Senior Send-Off party. At that time, we said our good-byes to graduating Brothers Anthony Prisco and Mitch Leibovitz. Eta Mu Chapter sends their best wishes to Brothers Kathleen Jahnke and Victor Reato who transferred in January. Eta Mu Chapter wishes all continued success!

WISCONSIN-LA CROSSE ETA RHO

With a very successful initiation behind us, bringing in nine new initiates and two faculty members, Eta Rho Chapter is off and running into the second semester. The highlight of the evening was a visit from our District Director, John Dewey, who was later to be initiated into the "Funnel Club." Everyone enjoyed the occasion immensely and eagerly looked forward to many happy semesters.

We invited Charlie Simpson, director of advertising for G. Heileman Brewing Company, to be our all campus speaker on December 7. He presented us with the commercials and information of the company's national advertising campaign for the coming year.

On December 10, several members traveled to Oxford, Ohio, to tour The Central Office where we met with Chapter Consultant Jere White, Executive Director Mike Mazur, and Director of Chapter and Alumni Club Operations Mark Roberts, as well as The Central Office staff. A tour of Miami University rounded off the day before the group made a "stepping stone" trip back to La Crosse, with a stop at Urbana, Illinois, to visit with the Brothers of Upsilon Chapter. There they were treated to a reception and a tour of the campus. The last stop before arriving home was at Whitewater, Wisconsin, to visit with the Brothers of Theta Xi Chapter. We are well on our way to achieving our 100,000 points for the Chapter Efficiency Index, our money maker, which consists of serving alcohol for all events on campus, is doing better than we had ever thought it would, and our Resume and Interview Workshop in February was well accepted and greatly appreciated by the students of the campus.

The Brothers of Eta Rho Chapter are interested in hearing from other chapters of any special events which may be forthcoming. If it is possible, you may be visited by us to help you in your celebration. We would also like to extend an invitation to all Brothers to stop in and see us any time to exchange ideas or to join the International Drink-A-Bunch for Lunch Club.

ILLINOIS STATE IOTA CHI

Iota Chi Chapter at Illinois State University is running its largest fund raiser yet during Illinois State's spring break. We've contacted two bus loads of students for a trip to Daytona Beach, Florida. We hope to make the success of this project an outstanding tradition of our chapter.

Our professional program is complete with six new speakers from various careers within the field of business. Our recruiting brought in many prospective members. The pledges are presently involved in activities required for completion of their training program. This is the second pledge class to set up and work toward goals and obtain points for the purpose of maintaining their own pledge class Chapter Efficiency Index. This part of our pledge education program helps the pledges see more clearly the procedures of the actual chapter.

Our community service projects still maintain a high participation rate. Our social events program is beginning to expand to several different types of activities. We recently entered two teams in a volleyball tournament that only included people from the organizations in the College of Business. After five hours of tournament action our teams were proud to present the chapter with both the first and second place trophies. We are also looking forward to a fantastic and eventful evening at this year's Rose Formal.

With the help and cooperation of all our Brothers we are confident of achieving well over the total of 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Index. We are also proud to recognize the donation of a banner by one of our graduating seniors. The banner displays the symbols and colors of Delta Sigma Pi. Once again we can report that the Brotherhood of Iota Chi Chapter is running smoothly as one single unit and from this we draw our strength.

IOWA EPSILON

Epsilon Chapter at the University of Iowa started the semester by initiating one of our biggest pledge classes in recent years. It consisted of 30 members who became new members on November 21. The initiation dinner, traditionally, took place at the Amana Colonies. There, the pledge parents received their pledge paddles and were also presented with an entertaining skit, put on by the new members.

The Brothers of the chapter have been busy traveling and have more trips still to come. In December, many Deltasigs went to Pasadena, California, to cheer the Hawkeyes on in the Rose Bowl. What an exciting way to ring in the New Year! We also plan to begin our second semester activities by traveling to Minneapolis, Minnesota, with our Brothers from Theta Omicron Chapter at St. Ambrose College in Davenport, Iowa. There, we will have the opportunity to tour various businesses, meet with our Brothers of Alpha Epsilon Chapter, and take in some sight-seeing along the way. Our final trip is one we have been looking forward to for quite some time now. We hope to see everyone in February at the regional basketball tournament this year in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Epsilon Chapter also has a new Chapter Advisor that we are proud to have with us. His name is Mr. Charles Kelley, and he is a prominent businessman from Cedar Rapids, Iowa. We look forward to working with him in the future.

NEBRASKA-LINCOLN ALPHA DELTA

A highlight of this semester for the Alpha Delta Chapter was the North Central Regional Basketball Tournament, held in February. We were happy to welcome our visiting Brothers, make new friends, and renew old acquaintances.

In the area of professionalism, Deltasigs sponsored a debate between professors in the College of Business Administration. The subject: Reaganomics! The discussion was lively and student turnout exceeded even our expectations. We hope to stage future debates of this type. Other professional activities in the near future include tours of a Weavers Potato Chip manufacturing facility and Norden Laboratories, plus a variety of speakers.

Our chapter, presently numbering almost 100 members and pledges, will graduate over 20 active, valued members in May. We thank these Brothers for their contributions to the chapter and the fraternity, and wish them success in the future.

DRAKE ALPHA IOTA

The Alpha Iota Chapter wound up its fall semester activities and entered into the spring semester without the slightest break in stride. The highlight of the fall semester was, of course, the initiation of 19 duly qualified neophytes.

Other significant happenings were the revampment of the pledge-father program, a visit from Chapter Consultant Jere White and fantastic achievements by several committees. Brothers were active in several community service projects and worked to increase relations with faculty and alumni. "Finals Week Packages" prepared and delivered to students in a time of dire need were the fund raiser for the semester.

The spring semester started off with a flurry of activities. Once again the members were required to recruit duly qualified individuals to become pledges. This task was made easier by the leadership of Senior Vice President James Russel, who coordinated an excellent rush program. Plans are now being finalized for the spring field trip which will take the Brothers of Alpha Iota Chapter to Houston, Texas, where they will be seeing several major industries, including Shell Oil.

We would like to extend to all the best of luck during the rest of the spring semester!

MANKATO STATE EPSILON IOTA

Epsilon Iota Chapter is excited to announce that our first year of being an active chapter proved very successful. We not only gained 12 fine Brothers fall quarter, but also had many valuable learning experiences. Having a regular pledge class gave us the opportunity to evaluate the pledge program and change it to fit our needs.

Our professional activities have been valuable to us. Some of our favorites have been a Professional Dinner with Art Petrie, a local self-made millionaire, and attending the Minnesota Business Hall of Fame luncheon.

Our monthly faculty coffees are helping us to become a well recognized organization on campus. We were especially pleased to have Chapter Consultant Jere White attend one of these.

Our raffle for a stereo system was our most profitable revenue project. With the united effort of Brothers and pledges, over 1200 raffle tickets were sold.

The social activities we have had are great for learning what Brotherhood actually is. Our most looked forward to event was the Regional Basketball Tournament in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Now that we have first-hand experience, we are a good chapter growing toward becoming even better. We would like to extend to all other chapters our wishes of unity and Brotherhood for them.

—Brenda Ziegler

ST. CLOUD STATE THETA TAU

Theta Tau's ninth annual spring break visit to Daytona Beach, Florida, has proven to be another success. A total of 20 Brothers, along with 250 eager sun-seeking students, found themselves visiting Disney World, Cypress Gardens, and a few other exciting attractions. Also, a few brave souls hit the high seas for a bout of ocean fishing, but, as might be expected, most of the time was spent on the beach swimming and tanning so all could impress their friends back in Minnesota.

Theta Tau Chapter will hope to repeat as champions in the North Central Region basketball tournament. This spring it will be hosted by Alpha Delta Chapter in Lincoln, Nebraska. Our committee is formed and working hard to put together a competitive team, but mostly looking forward to meeting our fellow Brothers from our region.

Dr. Darrell Wentworth has stepped down as our Chapter Advisor due to an increased schedule and larger work load. Dr. Wentworth helped start our chapter and has served it and advised us well. Dr. Bruce Skalbeck and Mr. William Jordan will serve as co-advisors. Dr. Skalbeck has been very active in chapter proceedings, attending meetings and activities and adding his expertise wisely. Mr. Jordan was an advisor for Eta Pi Chapter at Wayne State College in Wayne, Nebraska. He has recently started teaching at St. Cloud State and has shown great interest in our chapter. We are thankful to have such fine advisors and look forward to working with them in helping our chapter grow.

MIDWESTERN REGION

MISSOURI-COLUMBIA ALPHA BETA

Alpha Beta Chapter had a very successful fall semester. On November 21 we welcomed 23 new members into the Alpha Beta Chapter. The Ritual Team of Leslie Bauer, Sam Mejia, Tracy Truster, Marlow Kee, Kathy Rogers, DeRee VonderHaar, Mark Mathews, and Steve Rasche presented a beautiful and memorable ceremony. It was a day of celebration for a very hard working and dedicated pledge class who displayed every hope of keeping the Alpha Beta spirit continuing for another 40 years.

Our service projects for the semester started with a reception for our B & PA faculty and our new Dean (and Brother) Stan Hille. Brother Diane Marxkors coordinated our second service project with the American Legion. We sold crepe paper poppies to pedestrians for the V.A. Hospital on Veteran's Day. We were also heavily involved in helping the B & PA Dean's Office with pre-registration and peer advising. Our largest service project was hosting a Red Cross Blood Drive. The blood drive, under the direction of Lisa Iovino, Marlow Kee and a very efficient crew, was a major success and a great assistance to the Red Cross. We were also involved in the B & PA Alumni Phone-A-Thon in which we helped raise over $7000 for the B & PA Development Fund.

The pledge class, under the direction of Vice President for Pledge Education Dave French and the pledge class officers, Diana Dobbs, Jim Mendelson, Clark Wallace, and Jennifer Sheets, met every challenge the chapter presented them. They presented a professional program, "Dress for Success," to the chapter while doubling as models. They put together a Halloween party for a children's ward at a local hospital as a service project. They also repaired, repainted and remodeled our rush booth as a gift to the chapter. The highlight of their pledge period was the traditional "Pledge Party for the Members." The party, under the direction of hostess Judy Cumber, provided the pledges a chance to show the members how to throw a real party. The event marked a high point in the semester's social calendar and a high point in fellowship and Brotherhood in the chapter.

Bob Gilstrap was happy to donate his blood for the Alpha Beta Chapter campus blood drive at Missouri-Columbia.

The Alpha Beta Chapter bestowed the honor of Alpha Beta "Undergraduate of the Year" on our new president, Brother Steve Rasche. We wish Steve the best of luck in regional competition. We were also lucky to elect three of our new Brothers, Bob Gilstrap, Jim Mendelson and Diana Dobbs, to three of the four positions available on the B & PA Student Council.

The final event of the fall semester was our annual Christmas Party, hosted by our social chairman, Sam Mejia. Gag gifts were exchanged and the selection ranged from bizarre to tacky and tasteless (Right, Pam!). It was also a time to say good-bye to our December graduates: Marlow Kee, Nanci Mentzer, Dave Buruss and Steve Stevens. Best of luck!

Our January article referred to a Mizzou football victory over Oklahoma State. We apologize. We had intended to cite Missouri's victory over the Oklahoma Sooners.

TULSA BETA CHI

Beta Chi Chapter at the University of Tulsa is trying to upgrade its service project program. Last semester, the chapter invited faculty members to a wine and cheese party. With a new Dean of the College of Business, it was an appropriate time to renew ties with the professors. The Brothers of Beta Chi Chapter have worked on collecting food for families in crises. Another project the Brothers have undertaken is giving tours of the campus to high school seniors (potential incoming freshmen). Oth-

OKLAHOMA STATE GAMMA EPSILON

Gamma Epsilon Chapter at Oklahoma State University had a very successful fall semester. On November 22 we initiated 27 pledges into the fraternity. These new members are enthusiastic and they will help our chapter in furthering the purpose of Delta Sigma Pi.

The Kappa Omicron Chapter at Southwestern Missouri State University got off to a great start with the help of 12 Gamma Epsilon Brothers who helped with the installation of this new chapter. All of those who made the trip enjoyed the Brotherhood that was shared. We of Gamma Epsilon Chapter would like to wish the Kappa Omicron Chapter the best of luck.

Professional activities for the remainder of the fall semester included a tour of Mercury Marine and an informative lecture on the legalities of divorce given by our Chapter Advisor, Dr. Jim Jackman.

Gamma Epsilon's social calendar included our "Punkin Professionally" party. A good time was had by all as we danced the night away in our punk attire.

Next semester's activities include a full schedule of speakers and tours. Also the fund raising events include John A. Brown and Sears Credit Card Applications which have been very profitable. Our chapter receives 75 cents for each application that we send in.

NORTHEAST, MISSOURI STATE IOTA NU

Iota Nu Chapter recently completed a second successful year of running the concessions at our NMSU Bulldog basketball games. Special thanks go to Brother Bruce Erdel, chairman, and his committee on their organization and dedication. Also, thanks to all other Brothers who worked at the many games!

Two new committees have been established—one is the Treasury Committee, organized to assist the treasurer, particularly in collecting monies from the approximately 70 Brothers plus pledges.

The other new committee is the Big Brother Committee. Organized last November, they gathered feedback from other Brothers on what they liked and disliked about the current program and then used these and their own ideas to strengthen the Big Brother system. Their job continues as they observe the pledge season and deal with any Big Brother problems that may arise.

Professional activities continue with speakers such as George Spalding, 1980 Small Businessman of the Year. Another tour is also being planned.

The chapter is now looking forward to the Missouri chapters' quadruple initiation which will be hosted by Iota Omicron Chapter at Central Missouri State. We enjoy opportunities to share Brotherhood with other Deltasigs.

—Nancy D. Dintleman

CENTRAL MISSOURI STATE IOTA OMICRON

Iota Omicron Chapter at Central Missouri State University brought the fall term to a close and can now reflect back on a very productive period. The unified efforts of the officers and individual members have enabled the chapter to be well on its way to achieving Honor Roll status for the third consecutive year.

Initiation activities were held on December 12 with the addition of a sizable number of new members. Many thank are to be extended to Tony Hayes, senior vice president, and Denise Vandersteen, vice president for pledge education, for attracting and shaping such a fine group of people. Following initiation, a gala 60's party was held which fully "initiated" everyone in attendance.

To further strengthen our Brotherly bond a second annual retreat was held on January 9. The idea behind the retreat is to get all members together to discuss problems, conflicts, and any other thoughts or ideas that are usually not brought out into the open. Upon discussion, misunderstandings and "rough edges" can be smoothed and, as a result, our chapter is strengthened. In all, the retreat was a huge success, and it generated much enthusiasm for the new recruiting period which started on January 11 and ended with formal pinning on February 2.

Major service projects held throughout the term have included a phonathon for the Central Missouri State University Foundation, an adopt-a-grandparent program, and collecting aluminum cans for the Heart Association. Brother Togetherness is a major ingredient of the success of Iota Nu Chapter at Northeast Missouri State. From this photo, one can easily understand why they are referred to by some as the "Iota Zoo!"

Danita Guilford, service committee chairman, should be commended for her outstanding contributions to the fraternity and the community.

Our professional program this term has been particularly well-rounded, thanks to the foresight of Brother Eileen Moore, vice president for professional activities. Of special interest to all was Alumni Night which brought back six alumni to talk about their individual careers and to answer questions from the audience. Yet another fascinating aspect involved a tour of Whiteman Air Force Base which gave all attending members a greater understanding of and respect for our national defense system.

The highlight of the social season for the Iota Omicron Chapter was the ever popular Rose Formal held on March 13 at the newly remodeled Hyatt Regency in Kansas City. The festivities included our past queen, Cindy Schepers Record, crowning the 1982 queen; the honoring of all senior girls; and much dancing and enjoyment by all.

The Iota Omicron Chapter is very proud to say it is an integral part of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

TEXAS TECH BETA UPSILON

With the groundwork for the spring semester already in place, Beta Upsilon Chapter has begun its enthusiastic march into the new season. Chapter members eagerly await the new session packed with more diverse professional activities, social gatherings, service projects and campus activities.

The initiation of 23 new Brothers on November 22 provided the initial cornerstone for the road to the new term. After a short recess for Thanksgiving, the chapter elected its new officers. The executive members, once in office, quickly developed the ideals of the fraternity into a five-point plan of action.

The spring semester promises a calendar full of pledge activities, professional programs, social gatherings and service projects that will ensure the continual unity of the chapter. Activities will be "kicked-off" with the rush smokers and ensuing program designed to give the proper neophyte instructions. The professional program will encompass a lecture series with speakers from all areas of the business community. The program will be enhanced by a series of local field trips designated to examine the major business functions. The spring social activities promise continual Brotherhood among chapter members.

Along with chapter socials, Beta Upsilon Chapter unanimously looks forward to its Valentine ski retreat and the Rose Formal on April 3. Chapter service projects will enable members to re-establish their commitment to the fraternity, college and community. Projects will consist of electing the Newcomer of the Year, recognizing the most outstanding new instructor to the College of Business Administration. Efforts are now in motion to begin the establishment of a scholarship award for the highest achieving student in the School of Business. Brothers of the chapter continue their fund raising projects for worthwhile organizations such as Multiple Sclerosis Foundation. Finally, the chapter awaits finalization on its Easter presentation to the underprivileged children in the Lubbock area.

Beta Upsilon Chapter is maintaining its sight set on a goal of 100,000 Chapter Efficiency Index points with over 60,000 already to its credit. The chapter wishes all graduating Brothers congratulations and good luck!!

COLORADO ALPHA RHO

The Alpha Rho Chapter had a very successful fall semester. Senior Vice President Brad Fisher and Vice President for Pledge Education Keith Wheeler designed a recruiting and pledge program that culminated in the initiation of 15 pledges on November 21. Initiation ceremonies were held in the morning and the formal dinner and dance were held that evening at the Hilton Hotel in downtown Denver. Approximately 70 people attended the Rose Banquet; guests included the new initiates, Alpha Rho and Alpha Nu Chapter members, faculty members, and Alpha Rho and Alpha Nu alumni. Cyndi Neal was awarded the traditional "Rose" while

Gary Eisenstat was awarded the "Thorn."

Ruth Kahn, our vice president for professional activities, organized internships with Interstate Bank, Metro Bank, IBM and Aurora Community Hospital. The chapter also heard speakers in the areas of interview dress and information systems. Tom Herman and William Harris have been instrumental in organizing an Investments Club, a Money Market Mutual Funds Club and a Business Conference Day. "Business Day" is set for the spring semester and is being planned in conjunction with all other business school student organizations.

Mike Murphy, chancellor and fund raising chairperson for the fall semester, coordinated the fund raisers of "101 Dalmatians" and the "Wizard of Oz." Secretary Tammy Cooney organized a Deltasig pretzel sale at an all-school FAC (Colorado expression for Friday Afternoon Club). The pledge class made a profit via several bake sales. Historian Craig Anzai seemed ever present with his camera and did a good job with our two Deltasig bulletin boards. Our community service projects included putting on a Halloween Dance for the mentally retarded teenagers at the Ruth Woods School for Mentally Retarded children and a Nationwide Phonathon Night which raised $2500 for the Business School!!! Social Chairperson Cyndi Neal and other interested Brothers organized recruiting functions, member-pledge mixers, formal pledging, Founders' Day celebration, a barbeque at Brother Kathe Wilson's home, and a pajama party at Brother Mark Constancio's home.

Thanks go to Chapter Efficiency Chairperson Sharon Collins, Treasurer Gary Eisenstat, Phone Committee Chairperson Joan Christl, Bylaws Chairperson Jay McCready, Faculty Advisor Daryl Winn, and Alumni Advisor Shawn Beck who contributed much time during the fall semester. In December, Alpha Rho Chapter elected several new officers for the spring semester of 1982. Congratulations to William Harris, president; Cyndi Neal, senior vice president; Tammy Cooney, vice president for pledge education; Jay McCready, vice president for professional activities; Leba Sunshine, secretary; Jim Hince, chancellor; Kathe Wilson, historian; and Barb Heverly, social chairperson. Also, at elections, the chapter awarded T-shirts to "Good of the Semester" Kathy Kneedler and "Wad of the Semester" Brad Fisher.

There seemed to be increased involvement, professionalism and fraternalism in the chapter during the fall semester of 1981. I am very proud of our 55 Brothers and I thoroughly enjoyed the office of president. I am extremely confident in our officers for the spring semester of 1982. Best wishes to all the Deltasigs across the nation!!

—Kathy Kneedler

TEXAS-EL PASO GAMMA PHI

As the fall semester drew to a close, the Gamma Phi Chapter was sad to see nine members graduate, but happy to welcome six new members. This busy semester included putting up Christmas decorations at Cielo Vista Mall for 15 straight hours. Considering that this fund raising event took place immediately following initiation of our new members, you could not find a more determined group.

Vice President for Professional Activities Joe Werthmann deserves a hearty pat on the back. His organization of the Insurance Career Day led to the chapter receiving a plaque from the University of Texas at El Paso Placement Service for a job well done. All the officers for the fall semester should be commended for their work, especially President Jorge Villa, who had a big hand in making this semester a success.

On November 17, you could find members of the Public Relations Committee asking students to donate blood and, of course, all Brothers gave willingly. The members also organized a get-together with the Hill Haven Convalescent Center. The members enjoyed an afternoon of Bingo and fun with the patients.

The Founders' Day celebration held at the Celina Plaza Apartments was a glamorous evening with many alumni attending. Another evening to remember is the Christmas party, held at Indian Cliffs Ranch. The revealing of Secret Brothers at midnight brought many surprises and added to the excitement of Christmas.

ter and anticipation of coming activities. We have accomplished many of our goals to date and continue to work toward the attainment of our 100,000 CEI points. With an extremely active executive board, this objective should be easily met.

We are proud to recognize the addition of 31 new members and have already benefited from their knowledge, creativity, and enthusiasm in all areas of chapter operation. The Gamma Psi Chapter also extends congratulations to those Deltasigs receiving awards at our past initiation banquet. The Most Active Member Award was given to Judy Handleman, vice president for pledge education, and the Most Active Pledge Award went to Ed Connelly. A special certificate of appreciation was presented to our very supportive chapter advisor, Jay Brandi.

After our successful "Getaway Weekend" raffle last semester, we are busily planning new fund raising events to finance the Regional Conference here in Tucson next fall. We hope that each visiting chapter will enjoy the weekend activities as much as the Arizona chapters did at our Deltasig Days celebration. The many hours of preparation are always well worth the fun experienced by all.

ARIZONA STATE GAMMA OMEGA

What better way for Arizona's Gamma Omega Chapter to celebrate our Founders' Day than a hayride in the Arizona desert. Amidst the dark looming shadows of the mountains was the warm glow of the bonfire that illuminated the smiling faces of the Deltasigs there. The chapter's 30th birthday was recognized with the lighting of candles on a special cake, around which Brothers all gathered to sing "The Rose of Deltasig."

Our pledges topped off the semester with a "50's Rock N' Roll Revival" party. Fun was had by all with an evening of Jitter-bug and hoola-hoops.

Our semester came to an end with the initiation of our 14 fantastic pledges, and three faculty initiates.

We have elected our new officers and are looking forward to another successful semester.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE DELTA OMICRON

Greetings, Fraternity Brothers, across the nation. The Brothers from Delta Omicron Chapter here in San Francisco would like to wish everyone a pleasant spring and an exciting semester. Our new President Bill Kreiling, Senior Vice President Ann Hafner and Vice President for Pledge Education Dave Campbell hope all our fellow Brothers enjoyed the past National Football League season in which our 49'ers had the best record of all. We are very proud of our team and hope we didn't hurt anyone's feelings this past season if we beat your team.

This past fall was a very successful one for us as far as pledging was concerned. A great deal of work was put into the program by Steve Rezendes and his committee to recruit and educate the pledges. As a result, Delta Omicron Chapter now can proudly say we have six very qualified and capable newly initiated Brothers. Our primary goal throughout the fall semester was to make sure our pledges were notable. We feel we have accomplished this goal with these new Brothers.

This spring we are looking to Scott Smith to propel us into another successful program as our vice president for professional events. If his campaign speech was accurate, we should not have anything but a promising schedule of professional events. Dave Kale has been elected to motivate us throughout the semester to raise funds as our vice president of finance. We wish the best to David in this task. Perhaps Keith Ohira, our new e treasurer, can uncover some missing dollars we might have misplaced in the past.

Well, good luck to the officers of Delta Omicron Chapter this spring and to all the Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi who have taken the initiative to be a leader.

—Kevin J. M. Brown

LOYOLA-MARYMOUNT DELTA SIGMA

It is our pleasure, once again, to bring you the story of the Delta Sigma Chapter. Based at the small school of Loyola-Marymount University our 15 members, together with the Southern California Alumni Club members, sponsor intellectually enlightening, enjoyable, and worthwhile projects. A few examples of this are our tours of NBC and EDS Compusource, and Toys for Tots drive.

We also had various fund raising events this academic year. Two of our most memorable and enjoyable were a Thanksgiving door-to-door pie sale and a door-to-door mistletoe sale.

Our first semester ended with the exchange of Kris Kringle gifts and an alumni-sponsored Christmas party. The new year began with a splash—a party put on by the undergraduate chapter. Following this event came the major event of the year—our annual Meet the Companies Night. It was held at the Airport Marriot Hotel on February 18. During the evening students and representatives of different business firms had a chance to mingle and discuss future job opportunities. We felt the event was a success and were pleased that we were able to give the students of our school this exposure to the business world. We are proud of the accomplishments of this year, although we realize that there are always ways to improve. One of our major goals for the future is to increase our chapter membership, while maintaining the quality of Brotherhood we feel is necessary for a successful chapter.

—Rita Schoenfeld

CAL STATE-CHICO EPSILON THETA

The Brothers of Epsilon Theta Chapter began the spring semester by taking a retreat to the snowy slopes of Lake Tahoe's north shore. The retreat, which began on January 30, lasted an entire weekend and was used to develop stronger Brotherhood in the chapter.

Our recruiting week began on February 1 with 80 candidates signing up at the rush table. From this number we selected the 15 pledges we feel will best represent our chapter. Vice President for Pledge Education Dave Muscara is having the pledges work on some of the chapter's fund raising projects. As in the past, the pledges are also required to do a community involvement project. Besides helping the community, this will help the pledges develop unity.

Last semester's fund raising projects netted a $1000 surplus with which to begin the year. This semester we are continuing our donut sales and are planning to hold two raffles. We hope to better last semester's total income.

Vice President for Professional Activities P. J. Cotton set up a fine professional program for the semester. This included a speaker during recruiting week and two speakers in February. We have a tour scheduled in April when we will get a chance to see some of the casinos in Reno. This has been scheduled for the week of the Western Region's Annual Picnic which will be held in Reno. The Brothers look forward to defending the picnic trophy for the second straight year. We hope to keep this trophy in Chico for many years to come.

—Donald P. Boell

CAL POLY-POMONA ETA CHI

The Eta Chi Chapter started the new year off right with a successful rush and a very promising new group of Brothers.

The social calendar for this past winter quarter was the busiest, and most fun, in recent memory. During the two weeks of rush, almost every night had an event of interest for the prospective pledges as well as for the Brothers. We had several informal theme parties and smokers, two "Meet the Chapter Nights," a formal cocktail-rush party and a couple of challenge softball games. In addition, we all had a good time winding down at our weekly Friday afternoon club. During pledging, we continued our athletic activities with the highlight being a broom hockey game between the pledges and the Brothers. The pledge theme party was an hilarious success again this quarter.

The professional program from this past quarter was very interesting and informative. The theme was investment strategies for the small business environment. We had several enlightening speakers and a couple of tours of successful local businesses.

In closing, I would like to wish all Deltasigs luck as you head towards finals and the end of another school year.

—Robert J. Holman, Jr.

CAL STATE-NORTHRIDGE IOTA UPSILON

The Iota Upsilon Chapter has been going through some fast and furious changes in recent months. One of the most important of these changes was the pledging and initiation of our Gamma Pledge Class. The Gamma's managed to spark up every event they attended, including the Champagne Brunch where they belted out a rousing rendition of "The Best Darn Pledge Class." Well, so maybe they aren't the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, but we at the Iota Upsilon Chapter were proud to welcome nine Gamma's into our Brotherhood at the November initiation.

Our chapter has experienced other changes as well. The Northridge Deltasigs now have a greater impact on the campus as a whole. In recent university-wide elections, Brother Kathy Baily was elected to a seat on the Associated Students Senate. This brings the representation of Deltasigs on the senate to three, including Donna Nuzzi and Michael Alcalay. This would be a great achievement for any group, but it is even more remarkable for our chapter—remember, we have only been on campus for two years.

For the future, we are planning even more changes. We will continue to mature and grow by mainstreaming our operations, initiating a program to increase scholarship, expanding our professional activities, and conducting our meetings more efficiently. The Brothers of the Iota Upsilon Chapter are proud of our progress in the past months, and we are not about to stop now!

—Haley Rider

Educational Foundation Update

In the past few years Delta Sigma Pi has experienced tremendous growth while calling for improved programs and services for our members. Your Delta Sigma Pi Educational Foundation, too, is keeping pace with the rising costs of higher education and the demand for additional services for our members and their families. Beginning in 1982 the Foundation will offer a $1000.00 graduate study grant to the national winner of the Undergraduate of the Year competition. The grant will be available as a one-time award and must be used no later than five years following the completion of the undergraduate degree. Brother Albert S. Gordon, Zeta Psi Chapter-State University of New York-Albany, is the first eligible recipient of the award.

The Undergraduate of the Year Graduate Study Grant was made possible by the generous $11,000 contribution of Brother Sidney A. Sparks of Beta Kappa Chapter, University of Texas-Austin. Brother Sparks was recently honored at the Houston Alumni Club Founders' Day dinner for being the first member of the Educational Foundation's Founders' Club, thereby indicating cumulative contributions of $10,000 or more. Making the presentation on behalf of the Foundation was Vice President for Research and Development Victor A. Tabor. More recently, Brother Firman Hass, Psi Chapter University of Wisconsin-Madison, has become our second Founders' Club member. He has been a regular contributor to the Foundation since 1964. The Executive Committee wishes to recognize and thank both of these Brothers for their most generous and continuing support of our programs and services.

CHAPTERS AND ALUMNI CLUBS INCREASE SUPPORT

At the 1979 Grand Chapter Congress in Atlanta, Grand President Bill Tatum challenged the chapters and alumni clubs to contribute $75.00 each to the Foundation. In response, 35 chapters and alumni clubs have contributed and in 1981-82 we are again soliciting the support of our chapters and alumni clubs. Early indications are that over $2000.00 will be received from this appeal.

HOW DO I JOIN?

Membership in the Educational Foundation is open to all members in good standing of the Fraternity. Cumulative contributions of $100.00 or more entitles you to voting member status. As a voting member you will have a voice in the policies and direction of the Foundation. With a contribution of up to $100.00 you will become an associate member of the Foundation and can become a voting member when total contributions reach the $100.00 level. Chapters, alumni clubs, and friends of the Foundation may become honorary members of the Foundation with a gift of $100.00. All contributions to the Delta Sigma Pi Educational Foundation are tax deductible. More detailed information on membership is available upon request from Vice President for Membership Jeffrey L. Philippi, 952 South 23rd, Apt. 211, Richmond, Indiana 47374.

SUPPORT YOUR FOUNDATION

The Foundation's Board of Directors sincerely urges more Brothers to support the work of the Foundation. To date, only 300 of Delta Sigma Pi's 107,000 members are voting members of the Educational Foundation and only 675 are associate members. Won't you join us in making the Foundation the meaningful part of the Fraternity it was intended to be? All gifts, contributions, bequests, legacies, devises and transfers made to the Foundation are deductible for federal estate and gift tax purposes. Contributions and other gifts may be made directly to the Foundation Treasurer: Theresa M. Jeszka, 4540 W. Marlette Avenue, Glendale, Arizona 85301.

A SPECIAL SERVICE PROJECT

Alpha Delta Chapter, at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, sponsors a rather unique public service project. Each November, for the past five years, its members have coordinated and played in a 44 hour Basketball Marathon. The donations collected by the chapter for this marathon then go to buy Christmas presents for retarded children living in foster homes in the Lincoln community.

The project has not only helped to teach the chapter about the value of public service, but also about the necessities of organization and professionalism. Besides playing eight to 10 hours of basketball over a weekend, each Brother must also be involved in advertising the event, finding other teams to play against the fraternity, canvassing local businesses and friends for donations, and buying, wrapping and delivering presents.

The marathon itself is structured so that 22 area basketball teams each play for two hours against teams composed of chapter members and alumni. Trophies are awarded to competing teams who exhibit the most sportsmanship and to the team who beats the chapter by the highest percentage.

After the basketball games are over, the chapter obtains a list of foster house-parents from a group called the Lincoln Organization for the Mentally Retarded (LOMR). The Brothers then contact the house-parents to get information concerning the children's Christmas lists. The donations are used to buy each child a gift that he/she has requested in the $15 to $25 price range. The members then wrap the presents and deliver them to the houses two to three weeks before Christmas.

Over the past years the chapter has raised approximately $9,000.00 in its efforts to contribute to a child's happiness at Christmas time.
