DELTASIGS IN DENVER
Convention Coverage Inside

commentary

Richard J. Parnitzke

A new biennium and the start of another academic year. As time passes, both of these periods will undoubtedly reveal new and in some cases a continuation of all the challenges that can occur in our fraternity and personal lives, challenges that demand a commitment to success if they are to be overcome.

We as a fraternity have recently completed the most successful Grand Chapter Congress in our organization's history. Congress attendance and participation in leadership seminars were outstanding. The challenges of today and tomorrow were analyzed and plans were developed to overcome these challenges.

New leaders were elected at this immediate past Congress. With this new administration comes a sense of continued dedication to provide you, the leaders of today and tomorrow, with the direction so necessary for success.

In addition to an outstanding Congress, we as a fraternity have just completed another very successful biennium. Expansion continues at a planned pace in both the collegiate and alumni chapter areas. We now have an alumni chapter in the long dormant Northwestern Region. Membership is at an all time high. Interest in our fraternity continues to grow. New emphasis on leadership training has provided many dividends on all levels.

The challenges before us today are immense in many ways, but not to the point of becoming overpowering. Financial matters remain a major issue to be dealt with. The role our fraternity should assume in the future requires constant review if we are to remain a viable force in the academic and business communities. Fluctuating student enrollment continues to have a direct impact upon our membership level. Our alumni program needs further development. Future success in many respects is directly related to active, interested and involved alumni.

These are but a few of the challenges we must address. Whether the challenges associated with a successful professional fraternity are national, provincial, regional or local, every effort should be made to overcome them. The success of individual members and our fraternity as a whole depends upon our commitment to success.

If we are to continue to move forward and keep pace with the needs of our members, I strongly believe our collegiate members must convince their peers that a professional experience through membership in Delta Sigma Pi is in their best interests and certainly is on a level well above any other organization. Alumni must also realize that this is our fraternity. We as a fraternity want and need their valued involvement in local and national affairs. Our future success is assured if we all contribute to that success.

Fraternally,

Beginning at 10:00 A.M. and continuing throughout the day, Deltasigs and their families and friends arrived at the Marriott and were greeted by members of the Board of Directors.

On the morning of August 15, the Opening Business Session of the 34th Grand Chapter Congress commenced with the Invocation delivered by Past Grand President Kenneth B. White. NATIONAL HONORARY MEMBER

KARL FLEMKE

President and Chief Executive Officer of Junior Achievement becomes the fraternity's 20th
National Honorary Member

At nearly each Grand Chapter Congress since 1939, one of the highlights has been the Ritualistic initiation of the National Honorary Member. The membership classification of National Honorary Member was created as a means of nationally recognizing outstanding leaders in the business community who are not members of the fraternity.

The 20th National Honorary Member of Delta Sigma Pi is Karl Flemke, President and Chief Executive Officer of Junior Achievement, Inc., headquartered in Stamford, Connecticut.

Born in Wethersfield, Connecticut, in 1931, Mr. Flemke graduated from the University of Pittsburgh. He began his JA career in 1958 as Executive Director of the JA program in New Bedford, Massachusetts. During his tenure in New Bedford, Mr. Flemke expanded the JA program in that community until it ranked number one nationally in the number of Achievers per thousand population. The New Bedford Junior Chamber of Commerce voted Mr. Flemke "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" in 1960.

In 1962, he was promoted to head Junior Achievement operations in Pittsburgh and, in 1973, he was promoted to the position of Executive Vice President of JA operations in Los Angeles.

Twice during his career, Mr. Flemke received the Charles R. Hook Memorial Award, the highest professional honor bestowed upon a Junior Achievement executive. In 1980, he was promoted to Executive Vice President of the International Junior Achievement organization headquartered in Stamford and, in July, 1982, was named President and Chief Executive Officer of Junior Achievement, Inc.

It is particularly fitting that Karl Flemke was initiated as National Honorary Member at ceremonies on August 17, 1983, at the Denver Marriott Hotel Southeast, as Junior Achievement has been adopted as the National Community Service Project of Delta Sigma Pi. As this article is being written, Grand President Parnitzke and Executive Director Mazur are finalizing plans to meet with Brother Flemke and his associates in Stamford in order to finalize the operating details of our relationship. In the next issue of The DELTASIG a feature on Junior Achievement will appear; meanwhile, please learn about the Brother of Delta Sigma Pi leading this organization through his remarks delivered at the Grand Chapter Congress Banquet which follow:

I appreciate the opportunity to be with you here today, to be able to meet many of you and I'm especially pleased to be here tonight to accept your kind offer to become an Honorary Member in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. I am personally honored to become a part of your Brotherhood, but feel that it is also appropriate to accept this accolade on behalf of the entire Junior Achievement Organization which I represent.

The more I learn about your fraternity the more I am convinced that we can build a successful partnership for the mutual benefit of both our organizations and, in doing so, make a much greater impact together than either of us could do alone. I know that one of the goals of your fraternity is the advancement of the business community. And Junior Achievement believes that this advancement is heavily dependent on proper education—education not only from the classroom and books, but education that is provided through actual experiences and the "learn by doing" method. And so our purpose, supportive to yours, is to provide this practical and realistic education and experience in the private enterprise economic system.

“ . . . I am convinced that we can build a successful partnership for the mutual benefit of both our organizations . . . ”

You have taken the first step toward this partnership by adopting Junior Achievement as your National Community Service Project for this upcoming year. For this I want to thank you. Your decision provides both of us with a real opportunity. We at JA are very honored to be involved with such an elite professional business fraternity as yourselves. And I must add successful, too, you having generated membership of over 100,000 in over 200 locations. By blending the history and accomplishments of your fraternity since its inception in 1907 with that of JA since our founding in 1919, we should be able to help make a difference in the way people think about business, economics and entrepreneurship.

There was never a greater need than there is today to accomplish this objective. I am sure you are all aware of the confusion that exists in the public's mind about how businesses operate and why they must operate in a free enterprise system.

More importantly, I don't feel that there is a great deal of empathy for the tremendous challenges that businessmen and women face every day. It seems that every time you pick up the Wall Street Journal, New York Times or any newspaper, there is another story on another survey supporting the fact that the public does have many misconceptions about business. The most recent Gallup Survey on this issue reported that business, and particularly “big” business suffers from a “continuing negative image”. They state: “Concurrent with strong anti-business attitudes among students is a startling lack of knowledge and understanding of the private enterprise system. For example, students and the populace as a whole grossly overestimate the profits made by a typical large national corporation, show little knowledge of the high costs of labor . . . and grossly underestimate the federal income taxes paid by corporations.” Interestingly, one suggestion for improvement was: “Business people should help present the case for the free enterprise system to students.”

Recently, the National Task Force on Education for Economic Growth was formed. It consisted of 41 governors, corporate leaders and other prominent figures. The article in which the New York Times reported their findings was entitled, “Study Says Weaknesses of Schools Pose an Economic Threat to U.S.”. This is a pretty direct statement of their concern which should be all of ours. Now I can understand some of the difficulties that the schools face, so I am not here to place any blame, but rather I mention this Task Force because some of the solutions they recommend are appropriate for both Delta Sigma Pi and JA. The two most appropriate are: 1) Re-examination of lifetime tenure for teachers and modification of state certification rules to allow “qualified persons” from business and elsewhere to teach in public schools . . . and 2) more effective “partnerships” between industry and the public schools. The schools need help and our two organizations are positioned perfectly to implement these solutions. In fact, this is just what Junior Achievement has been doing for the past sixty years, and what you have agreed to become a part of this evening.

This past year, JA involved over one half a million students in our five primary programs. And I know these past few days some of you heard more about these programs from Phil Cofield, our Director of Operations, Western Region: Business Basics, a program introducing the concepts of how a business operates to fifth and sixth graders; Project Business, which develops teamwork between an experienced businessperson and a teacher to bring practical economics to eighth and ninth graders, also introducing different career choices to these students; our traditional JA after school program which allows High School students an opportunity to own and operate their own miniature corporation, with the assistance from adult business advisors; Applied Management, where college students like some of yourselves, assist the business adviser teams in consulting to these miniature companies; and finally, Applied Economics, probably our most exciting program, is a comprehensive, in-school, broad economics course to be offered to High School juniors and seniors—it combines the tried and true methods employed in our school hands-on program, with the latest computer technology, management games and again brings an experienced business consultant into the classroom. So we think that we are bringing to our partnership five strong, quality programs which can become vehicles through which you can accomplish both your personal and fraternity's objectives. And the end result is that we both are working to help the schools correct the problem of economic illiteracy.

And you can bring to our partnership a number of talents which are naturally inherent within Delta Sigma Pi. Specifically, I want to address Leadership, Volunteerism or that sense of brotherhood in helping others, and maintaining a future oriented vision.

Many of the problems I alluded to earlier exist because we live in such a rapidly changing country and change always provides new challenges, especially in the area of education. In 1975, Junior Achievement, along with Fortune Magazine, established the National Business Leadership Hall of Fame, where each year at a conference we induct giants and legends from the business community to honor their accomplishments and achievements. These are men and women who have successfully capitalized on the changes of their times and conquered the challenges that came with change. This past year the laureates included: Leo Baekeland, the father of plastics; John Deere, who developed the first successful steel plow; Edward Harriman, who united the nation with steam engines and rail; Olive Ann Beech, Beechcraft Corporation; Ray Kröch, MacDonalds and Abe Plough, Schering-Plough Corporation.

It was in the spirit of honoring these men and women that Ray Hay, Chairman and CEO, LTV Corporation, stated in his evening address: "Regardless of the magnitude of change, or the difficulties of challenges, our future remains secure so long as we have men and women of vision—people instilled with a fierce loyalty to free enterprise and an open society—Individuals who are endowed with the ability to lead vigorously." We, then, need your leadership talents which you have exhibited through Delta Sigma Pi and other individual activities. As you know, leadership is more than talk, it is example and it is the example of your senior achievements that must be displayed to the youth of our country. And obviously JA is one forum for this. So second to leadership, we need your positive attitude of helping others through volunteerism.

" . . . you can bring to our partnership a number of talents which are naturally inherent within Delta Sigma Pi."

Volunteerism is so important to our country, which is why the President is calling on it to solve some of our social problems. From a business perspective, it is becoming more and more a responsibility, and for business reasons, a responsibility that they have to their stockholders; I would suggest as much a responsibility as returning a dividend. In a recent article by Owen Butler, Chairman, The Procter and Gamble Company, he refers to this position as "serving the enlightened self interest of the shareholders". Specifically he talks about education: "I think every one of us who is involved in a for-profit corporation in the United States not only has a right but also a responsibility to use some of our resources in an effort to strengthen the public education system in the United States. The future of our corporations will depend on the product of that system and working to improve this system clearly serves the enlightened self-interest of our shareholders."

Obviously, these resources refer to money, but also the most valuable asset—our personal time. Delta Sigma Pi's attitude to volunteerism is clearly evident and by selecting us as your National Community Service Project, I believe you have reinforced the fact that the success of our programs is definitely in the enlightened self interest of both the business and education communities.

Finally, I admire the vision and creativity of your fraternity—a trait that we also have in Junior Achievement. This positions both of us to meet the challenges we face in implementing our purposes..

"I truly believe that JA and Delta Sigma Pi are in alignment with our philosophies . . ."

I truly believe that JA and Delta Sigma Pi are in alignment with our philosophies, have common objectives, and have reinforcing strengths to be drawn upon. This, along with the great need to re-educate the general public and youth on business, economics and entrepreneurship, forms the foundation of our partnership. I can commit to you support for your projects from our National office and 160 field operations and I know we can count on your commitment to our programs.

If we can unite our collective resources behind one common thrust for mutual gain, then we can definitely make a difference about how America thinks about business. Our purpose it too important not to.

Again, thank you for your time this evening and I appreciate being able to be an Honorary Member of Delta Sigma Pi.

COLLEGIAN OF THE YEAR

Selected as the outstanding members of their chapters, each candidate for Collegiate of the year is carefully screened by regional and national selection committees. Meet our very best, our leaders of tomorrow . . .

Linda S. Alcheh

LINDA S. ALCHEH, a graduate of the State University of New York-Albany and a Zeta Psi Chapter alumnus, has been chosen as the Collegian of the Year for 1983. She has already attended meetings of the National Executive Committee and Board of Directors prior to and following the Grand Chapter Congress in Denver. In every way, Linda Alchek exemplifies those qualities for which the Collegian of the Year Award was established.

Each chapter in the fraternity has the opportunity to nominate a member for this award. From all regional nominees, a regional finalist is selected by a screening committee within the region and, from these finalists, a national winner is chosen by the National Selection Committee. The National Selection Committee is composed of the two most recent Collegians of the Year, the Executive Director and the members of the National Executive Committee. Established in 1971, this award recognizes the outstanding collegiate member of the fraternity as evidenced by scholarship, extra-curricular activities, fraternity service, demonstration of responsibility to self and others and representation of conduct according to the highest standards of business ethics and integrity.

All nominees are all of these things, making the final selection and an announcement of the winner most difficult for the National Selection Committee. As you read about these members on the following pages, you will note that they are fraternity leaders of tomorrow and represent our very best.

ALUMNI REPORT

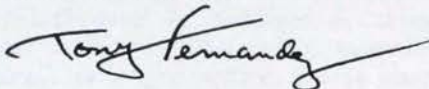

Is everybody ready? We had a great Congress in Denver! Are we ready now to make this the greatest biennium in our history? We've elected and put our new organization in place; we've got our "lean and mean" budgets approved; we have the measuring criteria all set. Those at the national level are ready to execute. But when all is said and done, that means little unless it happens at the local level first.

In business success is measured by results; results are the outcome of execution; and execution is based on good planning. It follows, then, that good planning is a prerequisite of success. Achievement comes from having set goals. And successful achievement is the result of planning high goals. So the message in all this is to urge every alumni chapter to plan these high goals. Has your chapter set membership goals? Activity goals? Expansion goals? Community Service goals? Goals to develop your fraternal bond? Will it matter a great deal to a Deltasig in your area if we have a great nationally and the local alumni chapter was "the pits"? The success of the fraternity in this biennium will depend in large measure on the success of each individual chapter, both collegiate and alumni. And you have to MAKE THAT HAPPEN!

So, I repeat—are you ready to make your contribution to a Deltasig banner biennium? I offer my help in any way that I can to MAKE IT HAPPEN!!! On another note, the first issue of Echoes, the alumni newsletter, was mailed to collegiate and alumni chapter presidents, the Board members and The Central Office staff. An offer was made to mail the newsletter directly to any alumni chapter's membership roster if they send a dollar per member to cover postage . . . in case you didn't see the first issue. Send the dollar to me.

Fraternally yours,

Anthony Z. Fernandez
Director of Alumni Activities

ATLANTA

The Atlanta Alumni Chapter started off the new year in August by defeating a team of collegiate members from Kappa and Pi Chapters in a softball game before the Annual Barbeque. The highlight of the game was a grand slam home hit by Southeastern Regional Director Dean Ferguson.

As the fall progressed, the chapter kept its momentum through informative monthly meetings that covered topics such as "Personal Computers" in September and "Real Estate" in October.

A summer downpour failed to dampen the spirit of the Buffalo Alumni Chapter's annual summer family picnic. Plenty of food, a muddy playground, and good conversation made for a fine afternoon.

Several bar parties were held early this fall providing contributions to our local scholarship fund and opportunity for socializing among Brothers. One such party followed the pledge ceremony at Alpha Kappa Chapter, bringing together members of both chapters and the new pledge class.

The Brothers of the chapter again extend their congratulations to Brother Parnitzke on his election to the office of Grand President.

Our summer activities were highlighted by the second annual Bob Davis cookout on August 6. More than 40 Brothers attended and "a good time was had by all."

On Wednesday, September 7, we held our first business meeting of the '83-84 year at Budweiser. Carl Quickmire took the honors in the poker game afterwards.

HARTFORD

After the long, hot summer, the Hartford Alumni Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi had an exciting fall season. It was a beautiful day for our picnic at Hammonasset State Park on September 10 and everyone enjoyed the fresh air and exercise during the Autumn Golf Outing. It was even better than the June Golf Outing!

Our chapter was well represented at the 34th Grand Chapter Congress by President Jack Ciak and Vice President of Membership Donna Smith. Jack and Donna returned with a contagious sense of fraternalism and many interesting stories. I hope we can all catch that sense of fraternalism. Remember, Brotherhood still exists after college.

Our delegation included Delegate Rich Wolf, Jeff Rosenthal, Fausto Pombar, Pete Catalano, John Farrell and Long Island District Director Marc Robbins. This fall the Long Island Alumni Chapter has set an active agenda of both social and professional events. These include a monthly get-together at a local restaurant, an Islander hockey game (Long Island's own four times Stanley Cup Champions) and, hopefully, a career seminar in conjunction with the collegiate chapters on Long Island.

ST. LOUIS—GATEWAY

The St. Louis Gateway Alumni Chapter has been downstream on the Current River for the August float trip and topsy-turvy riding the Thunder River at Six Flags over Mid-America. In October we became connoisseurs as we toured the winery in Herman, Missouri.

Along with the Eta Mu and Eta Sigma Chapters, we shared much fraternal spirit at our Founders' Day gathering on November 5. November 17 is the beginning of our monthly happy hours. They will be held the third Thursday of each month at Schimezing's at 1115 Hampton Avenue near the Checkerdome/Arena. November 19 marks a traditional snuggling activity—a hayride at Babler State Park in Chesterfield.

In December the alumni chapter will again gather with area collegiate chap-

SAN ANGELO

The 4th Annual Golf Tournament was held August 20 at Bentwood Country Club. The event had thirty-six golfers pursuing Darrell O'Neal's two wins. The old saying that goes "the third time is the charm" really applies. This year's winning team, as you've already guessed, was headed by Darrell O'Neal.

Next year's tournament is guaranteed to have a different winner because O'Neal has agreed to play with one foot in a bucket. The bar-be-que was held at the ASU Lake Facility and special thanks go to Bill Hart for the meal and Randy Harbin and Mike Wheeler for setting the tournament.

SEATTLE-TACOMA

It is with great pride that we announce that the Seattle-Tacoma Alumni Chapter is now franchised and ready for business! Our chapter was originally started by Anne Binczewski, but unfortunately her employment dictated other commitments of her time. We currently have 14 active members and our numbers our growing.

Goals that we have set were to establish a solid alumni chapter and begin to promote collegiate chapters. We are anticipating starting a collegiate chapter at the University of Washington in the spring of 1984 and Mark Roberts of The Central Office will be journeying to Seattle to assist the chapter in our presentation to the faculty.

The chapter had its first annual picnic on September 10, 1983; we had uncooperative weather, but we did not let this dampen our spirits. We had an excellent turnout of Brothers and spouses, good fellowship and plenty of food.

Our officers for the upcoming year are Tony McCreary, Delta Omicron, president; John McLeod, Delta Rho, vice president; Phil Mundt, Nu, secretary; and David VanDyke, Beta Pi, treasurer. Our mailing address is Seattle-Tacoma Alumni Chapter, Delta Sigma Pi, P.O. Box 303, Mountlake Terrace, Washington 98043. We look forward to hearing from other Brothers and chapters in the near future.

TUCSON—OLD PUEBLO

The Tucson-Old Pueblo Alumni Chapter sent four representatives to the 34th Grand Chapter Congress in Denver last August. Brother Danny Spitzer was the Official Delegate, Brother John Munro, First Alternate, and Brother Steve Rosenberg, Second Alternate. Brother

Chuck Farrow, who also attended the Congress, was elected Director of the first Grand Chapter Congress to be attended by these Brothers; they each look forward to attending the 35th Grand Chapter Congress in Dallas two years from now.

Our chapter is particularly proud to have been awarded the Deltasig Alumni Chapter Service Award for 1983. We have a core membership of about fifteen active alumni who have given their services or donated money to such worthwhile organizations as the Special Olympics, the American Cancer Society, Jerry Lewis' Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, and various other local and national charities. We heartily recommend that other Alumni Chapters' "get involved". It's volunteerism at its best—Brotherhood fun in action!

—John Munro

Welcome, Brothers, as we begin another exciting school year; this one began on a fantastic foot: the 34th Grand Chapter Congress. We're sure none of the 650-plus Brothers who made it to Denver can totally describe the fun (or what?) and Brotherhood which we all experienced, but it can best be summed up by this quote from one of the attendees: "I only wish I could bottle this feeling and bring it back to my chapter." Although you can't bottle it, the Brotherhood was infectious, and we're sure it has (or will) spread throughout the fraternity.

And who will be able to forget the singing of the "Rose" at the Banquet or the last Business Meeting. In short, it was the ultimate Delta-sig experience. All of us made new friends for life.

This Grand Chapter Congress also offered some of the best seminars on everything from Recruiting to Leadership Development to Chapter Management. We hope that this valuable information has made the trip back from Denver with your delegates. And every Brother owes a very special thanks to the entire Central Office Staff for a FANTASTIC JOB. (Oh . . . and how was the vacation afterward?)

In addition to the activities at the Congress, the National Executive Committee and the Board of Directors completed a great deal of fraternity business which we would like to highlight for you. First, we were again forced to raise dues because of a projected deficit. We would like to note, however that 1) Alumni dues were increased 50% (to $30.00) and 2) two of our goals for the new biennium involve decreasing the need to future dues increases.

Another area of increased emphasis is collegiate communication, and now a formal committee has been established to deal with this issue. Both Linda and Steve are on the committee, and if you have any interest, please feel free to drop us a line. Alumni activity and involvement are also to receive continued attention, now under the direction of Tony Fernandez.

We have continued our drive toward expansion and reactivation with a pledge especially to the Northwestern United States and Canada. In addition, three colonies are due for installation this fall.

The Board of Directors also reviewed the probation program. Since its inception, we have seen a noticeable rise in the Chapter Efficiency Index and a dramatic decrease in problem (i.e., weak) chapters. In fact, this year, only 13 chapters are targeted for the extra Central Office attention and fraternal assistance that is the thrust of the program, down from 33 last year.

Finally, we would like to congratulate all the newly elected officers for the fraternity. We are confident that these next two years will be just as exciting, and productive, as the biennium just past. Congrats especially to the new Executive Committee members—Tony Fernandez, John Henik, Mickey Johnson and Linda Alcheh and of course, Dick Parnitzke. Unfortunately, we must also say goodbye to those who have left the committee after serving their terms: Bill Leonard, Mark Franson, Jim Deaton and Al Gordon. Good luck to y'all, especially Al, who began his studies for an MBA at Harvard.

Once again, please feel free to contact us with any problems solution, or opportunity, either with which you need help, or in which you may be able to offer some assistance.—

The Final Business Session of each Grand Chapter Congress is devoted to the election of the Board of Directors who will lead Delta Sigma Pi for the subsequent biennium. The elections conducted during the 34th Grand Chapter Congress were somewhat different from those held during previous conventions because, for the first time, members of the National Executive Committee were also elected directly by the Grand Chapter, as opposed to being elected by the Board of Directors. FOUNDATION REPORT

During the Biennial Meeting of the DELTA SIGMA PI EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION, several important policy decisions were made.

It was decided to increase the Graduate Study Grant from $1,000 to $1,500 beginning with the 1984 winner. Also, applicants for the 1984 grant need only be in the top ten per cent of their class. In prior years it was necessary that they be in the top five per cent of their class.

The two 1984 winners of the undergraduate scholarships will each receive $1,000 per year for a four year period. This is double the amount previously awarded.

An application form for the four year scholarship is printed in this issue of The DELTASIG. Applications must be mailed to the Vice President for Financial Aid by January 31, 1984.

EXPANSION

New chapters installed at Winona State, Valparaiso and Savannah State. Deltasig returns to Missouri-St. Louis and Michigan

Past Grand President Bill Tatum, right, presents Dean F. Barry Haber the fraternity's Certificate of Appreciation for his work with the establishment of Kappa Phi Chapter.

William E. Urschel Hall, home of the School of Business and Kappa Phi Chapter at Valparaiso University.

Although the state of the economy may have been somewhat depressed during the 1982-83 academic year, Delta Sigma Pi's expansion and reactivation program did not, in any way, experience a recession. Last year, the fraternity installed three new collegiate chapters and reactivated two previously dormant chapters. All of this activity took place during the spring of this year; four installations and reactivations occurred in April alone. We welcome all of the members of these chapters into our Brotherhood and present their success stories to you.

ETA NU CHAPTER BACK AT U.M.S.L.

After a period of inactivity dating from 1974, Eta Nu Chapter was reactivated at the University of Missouri-St. Louis on April 2, 1983. A total of 18 new collegiate members were initiated as the number of active collegiate chapters in the state of Missouri increased to five.

Jeffrey A. Janoski, a collegiate initiate of Iota Nu Chapter at Northeast Missouri State University who transferred to UMSL, initiated the efforts to reactivate Eta Nu Chapter during the fall of 1981. For over a year, Jeff received little support from the student body for his efforts. He persisted, however, and was rewarded with the formation of Mu Sigma Lambda, a local business fraternity, late in 1982. The group grew in size and fulfilled many of the requirements for the reactivation of the chapter charter during the first few months of this year. By mid-March, the Board of directors voted to accept Mu Sigma Lambda's petition to reactivate the charter of Eta Nu Chapter.

Grand President Michael R. Mallonee served as the Headmaster of the Ritual Team during the reactivation ceremonies on April 2. Also present were District Directors Michael L. Marcotte and Frank J. Weber III; Collegian of the Year-1982 Steven P. Rasche; Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts; Dr. Donald H. Driemeier, Dean of the School of Business Administration and a charter member of Eta Nu Chapter; and members of Alpha Beta (Missouri-Columbia), Eta Sigma (Southern Illinois) and Iota Nu (Northeast Missouri State) chapters and the St. Louis-Gateway Alumni Chapter. Following a very festive banquet that evening, the newest members of Eta Nu Chapter were planning for a very bright and prosperous future as the representatives of Delta Sigma Pi on their campus.

WINONA STATE UNIVERSITY HOME OF KAPPA UPSILON CHAPTER

The fraternity's 205th collegiate chapter and the state of Minnesota's fourth came into existence on April 9, 1983, as Kappa Upsilon Chapter was installed at Winona State University. Thirty-Three collegians and one faculty member were initiated as the charter members of the chapter.

As is frequently the case, a collegiate initiate of Delta Sigma Pi who transferred to a university that lacked a chapter of our fraternity, initiated the effort to establish the new chapter. In this case, Mark Dorn, who was inducted at Mankato State University by Epsilon Iota Chapter, wanted to share the Delta-sig experience with his fellow business students at Winona State University. His efforts began during the spring of 1982 when he interested a group of a few students in working toward a chapter charter. Recruiting new members during the fall quarter increased the group's size considerably. In September, the organization sent a delegation to the North Central Regional Conference and received a visit from Assistant Executive Director Michael T. Walsh. Shortly thereafter, the group adopted Psi Alpha as the name of their local fraternity.

Additional recruiting activities were conducted during the fall and winter quarters as the members of Psi Alpha sponsored a wide variety of activities and fulfilled the requirements for a chapter charter. Their membership in the Winona Area Chamber of Commerce provided them with numerous valuable contacts for professional activities. By mid-January, when the members of Psi Alpha were visited by Director of Chapter Operations, a target date for installation in early April had been selected. In March, their petition for a collegiate chapter charter was approved by our Board of Directors.

On the morning of April 9, a large group of Deltasigs gathered in Winona in the midst of an unexpected snowfall. Grand President Michael R. Mallonee, Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts, District Director Scott W. Larkin, Faculty Advisor Mark R. Young (a collegiate initiate of Eta Rho Chapter), Golden Council member Rudolf Janzen and members of Alpha Epsilon (Minnesota-Minneapolis), Epsilon Iota (Mankato State), Eta Rho (Wisconsin-LaCrosse) and Theta Tau (St. Cloud State) chapters composed the installation team. The banquet that evening was held on board an elegantly refurbished riverboat on the banks of the mighty Mississippi. After the conclusion of that exciting and memorable event, the members of Kappa Upsilon Chapter resolved to prove that they were "The Professionals" at Winona State University.

DELTA SIGMA PI RETURNS TO THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Since Xi Chapter became inactive during the 1965-66 academic year, many Deltasigs have harbored a desire to again have our professional fraternity represented at Michigan. On April 16, 1983, that desire became reality as 22 new collegiate members were initiated and the charter of Xi Chapter was reactivated on the impressive and beautiful

Ann Arbor campus of the University of Michigan. Five collegiate chapters are now active in the Great Lakes State.

Past East Central Regional Director Jeffrey L. Philippi set in motion the events leading to the reactivation late in 1981 by contacting Dr. Gilbert R. Whitaker, the Dean of the School of Business Administration at Michigan and an earlier initiate of Xi Chapter. He directed us to seek recognition from the Student Council which was obtained following a presentation to that body in January, 1982. In April of that year, the initial recruiting presentation, conducted by Central Regional Director John V. Henik, met with moderate success. David M. Weller, a collegiate initiate of Epsilon Xi chapter at Ball State University who had transferred to Michigan, offered to help coordinate future activities on campus.

The effort to reactivate Xi Chapter gained a great deal of additional momentum following a second presentation in October by Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts and Reactivation Chairman Paul F. Smith. After that meeting, a group of 30 students began to fulfill the requirements for chapter reactivation and, in November, formally notified The Central Office of their intent. A diverse group of activities was planned and presented during the remainder of the fall semester and the first half of the spring semester. After all requirements had been fulfilled, the Board of Directors voted to officially reactivate the chapter charter.

The morning of April 16 dawned clear and cold in Ann Arbor. Among the Deltasigs gathered were the members of the reactivation team: then Director of Alumni Activities (now Grand President) Richard J. Parnitzke, who served as Headmaster of the Ritual Team; Director of Chapter Operations Mark Roberts; Central Regional Director John Henik; and members of Gamma Theta (Wayne State) and Gamma Rho (Detroit) chapters and the Greater Detroit Alumni Chapter. The banquet that culminated the reactivation ceremonies took place on campus and was attended by a number of alumni of Xi Chapter who wanted to join in the celebration marking the rebirth of their chapter. The 22 new members, consisting of both BBA and MBA candidates, will now work to restore Delta Sigma Pi to a position of prominence at the University of Michigan.

EIGHTH INDIANA CHAPTER INSTALLED AT VALPARAISO

Dr. Gilbert R. Whitaker, Dean of the School of Business Administration, joins Afzal Ebrahim in welcoming Delta Sigma Pi back to the campus at the University of Michigan.

Valparaiso University in Valparaiso, Indiana, is the home of Kappa Phi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, the fraternity's 206th collegiate chapter. During the installation on April 30, 1983, 32 collegians and three faculty members joined the ranks of our Brotherhood.

During the fall of 1981, former Chapter Consultant Jere W. White contacted Dr. F. Barry Haber, Dean of the College of Business Administration at Valparaiso and a faculty initiate of Zeta Psi Chapter at SUNY-Albany. It was not until April of 1982, however, that a group of students organized with Delta Sigma Pi. During the summer, plans were made to introduce the fraternity to all business students and a very successful presentation took place on October 3. The immediate result of that program was the establishment of Kappa Beta Alpha, a group of more than 40 business students which declared its intent to pursue a chapter charter from Delta Sigma Pi.

During the months that followed, the members of Kappa Beta Alpha systematically fulfilled the requirements for a chapter charter. When Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts visited the group in January, the members selected a target date in late April for their installation. By the end of March, all requirements had been fulfilled and the petition to grant a chapter to Kappa Beta Alpha was approved by our Board of Directors.

It was raining on the morning of April 30, but the precipitation did not dampen the enthusiasm of either the pledges or the Brothers from other chapters who had traveled to Valparaiso to assist in the installation ceremonies. Past Grand President William W. Tatum, Jr., served as Headmaster of the Ritual Team. Other members of the installation team included Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts, Chapter Consultant John W. Belke II, Central Regional Director John V. Henik, District Director Robert L. Taylor, Faculty Advisor Dr. F. Barry Haber, and members of Theta Psi (Indiana Northwest), Iota Lambda (Indiana/Purdue-Ft. Wayne) and Kappa Sigma (Indiana-Indianapolis) chapters. Following the banquet that evening, the charter members of Kappa Phi Chapter were anxious to work together for their benefit and for the enhancement of the business program at Valparaiso University.

KAPPA CHI CHAPTER OUR NEWEST AT SAVANNAH STATE

Our 207th and newest chapter is located at Savannah State College. Kappa Chi Chapter becomes our eighth chapter in the state of Georgia. At the installation of the chapter on June 4, 1983, 25 collegiate members and two faculty members became the charter members of our newest chapter.

The installation of Kappa Chi Chapter took place in one day, but was really the culmination of a lot of hard work by a number of people. A year and a day before the chapter installation, District Director Stephen A. Jones first spoke to the faculty of Savannah State College about the possibility of establishing a chapter of the fraternity on their campus. While the response was mixed, Stephen did find that Mrs.

Swannie M. Richards was very interested in establishing a chapter. Communicating with her throughout the summer of 1982, plans were made for informational meetings in the fall. Two were set up on October 14 and October 25. On October 25, 1982, Director of Chapter Operations Mark A. Roberts attended an informational meeting with Stephen Jones and from that meeting came a group of interested business students who became Sigma Sigma Chi local fraternity and colony of Delta Sigma Pi.

Throughout the months that followed, Sigma Sigma Chi fulfilled the requirements required for chartering a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. This was done with the support of District Director Stephen A. Jones, Southeastern Regional Director C. Dean Ferguson, Dr. Leo G. Parrish, Dean of the School of Business, Mrs. Swannie M. Richards, faculty advisor, and other members of the faculty. In April, Sigma Sigma Chi petitioned the Board of Directors for a chapter charter and it was granted in May.

Brothers from Kappa Chapter

(Georgia State), Beta Gamma Chapter (South Carolina), Epsilon Chi Chapter (Georgia Southern) and the Atlanta Alumni Chapter assisted Grand President Michael R. Mallonee with the installation ceremonies. Other members of the Ritual Team included Executive Director Michael J. Mazur, Jr., Assistant Executive Director Michael T. Walsh, Southeastern Regional Director C. Dean Ferguson and District Director Stephen A. Jones. During the banquet that evening, Dr. Samuel Williams gave the Invocation and Benediction with Dr. Leo G. Parrish extending the greetings of the college. Former Chairperson of the Division of business at Savannah State College, Dr. Mary C. Forian, then gave a history of the School of Business, followed by Diane E. Bacon, Vice President for Professional Activities of Kappa Chi Chapter, presenting a history of Sigma Sigma Chi. The highlight of the evening occurred when Kappa Chi Chapter President Byron V. Johnson received the Kappa Chi Charter from Grand President Mallonee.

The new Brothers from this installation joined the Brothers from the other installations and reactivations in expressing an enthusiasm for the fraternity which will help carry them to many years of successful operation. As the fraternity continues to grow, so does the opportunity for business students to gain the lifelong benefits of belonging to the professional business fraternity, Delta Sigma Pi.

Dean Leo G. Parrish welcomed Deltasigs to Savannah State.

As a result of this legislative session, the position of Undergraduate of the Year was renamed Collegian of the Year; graduate students may now be considered as candidates for Collegian of the Year and the Editorial Advisory Board, a national standing committee, was abolished.

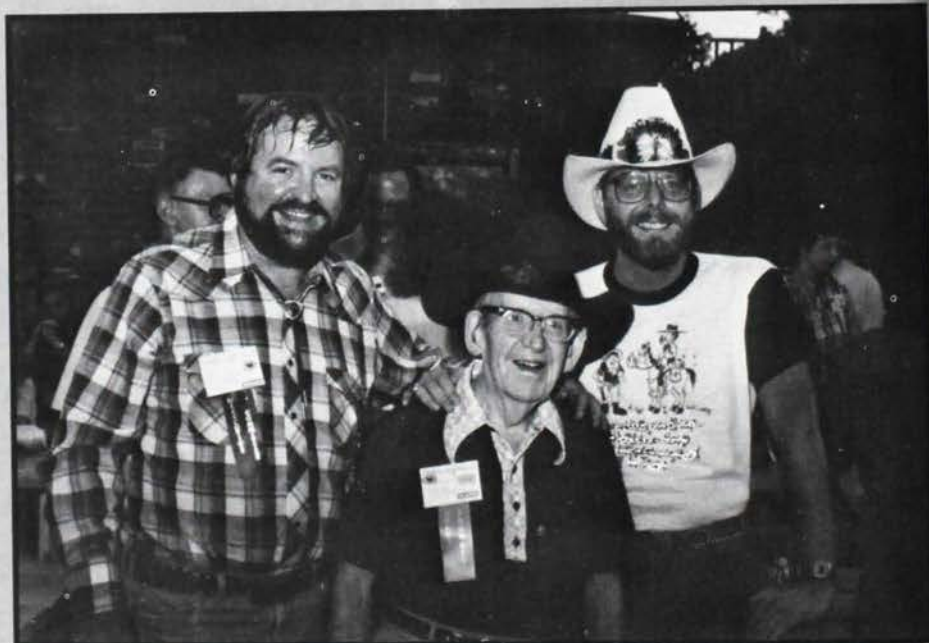

After lunch, the Meet the Candidates Forum was moderated by Past Grand Presidents M. John Marko and Tom Mocella and gave the delegates the opportunity to hear the platforms of the candidates for the positions of Grand President, Director of Alumni Activities and Provincial Vice Presidents.

A highlight of the convention occurred on Wednesday afternoon as Karl Flemke, President and Chief Executive Officer of Junior Achievement, was inducted as the 20th National Honorary Member of Delta Sigma Pi. On Wednesday evening, all convention attendees donned their finest attire and gathered in the Grand Ballroom for the 34th Grand Chapter Congress Banquet. Led by the maitre d' hotel, the members of the Board of Directors, their spouses and other head table guests paraded to their places to rounds of applause and a rousing tune played by Malcolm Smith and his orchestra. Mike Mallonee served in the traditional role of Toastmaster and introduced Director of Alumni Activities Dick Parnitzke who delivered the Invocation.

Throughout the meal, the band played a variety of state and college songs and banquet participants numbering 663 displayed their enthusiasm by singing along, by applauding and, in some cases, dancing in the aisles!

The traditional countdown of Grand Chapter Congress attendance occurred as the banquet came to a close and the convention attendance record was again shared by Past Grand President Ken White and his wife, Claire, of Dallas, Texas, who were attending their 25th Grand Chapter Congress. Special events of the day included the birthday of Golden Council Member Jack Fincher and the 20th wedding anniversary of Director of Alumni Activities Dick Parnitzke and his wife, Jackie. In a surprise presentation, Executive Director Mazur was presented with a grey wig by Chapter Consultant Rich Garber, who explained that Brother Mazur should be totally grey as a result of all of his concerns about this convention. The final event of the banquet was the singing of the "Rose of Deltasig" led by Great Lakes Regional Director Tony Fernandez and dedicated to Ina Mallonee, mother of the Grand President. Moments later, the 34th Grand Chapter Congress Banquet came to a close representing another lifetime memory for all in attendance.

The Final Business Session was held on Thursday, August 18, and consisted of the election of National Officers and the presentation of Resolutions. In a feature article elsewhere in this issue the results of the elections and information on the new Board of Directors can be found. Past Grand President Tom Mocella installed the members of the 1983-85 Board of Directors and the 34th Grand Chapter Congress was adjourned by newly-elected Grand President Dick Parnitzke.

The final event of the Denver Congress was the Farewell Luncheon. Members of the Board leaving positions were presented framed Certificates of Appreciation for their service.

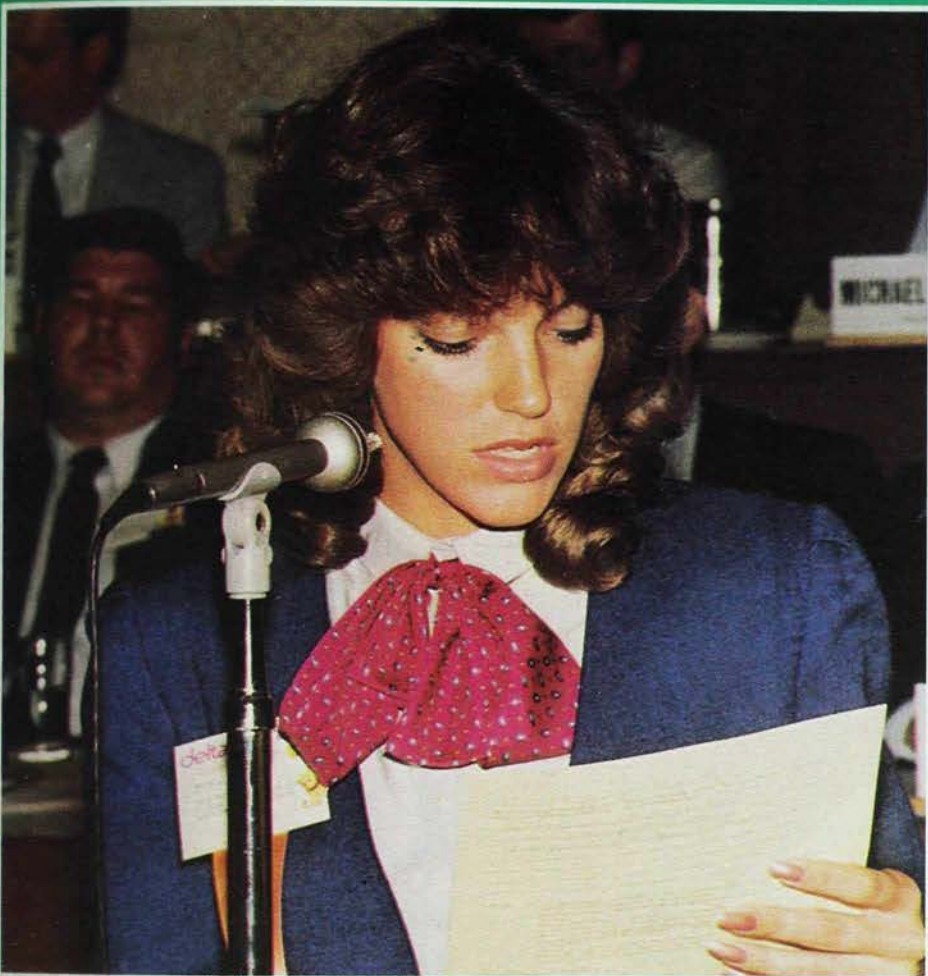

A special presentation, including a Certificate of Appreciation and a diamond fraternity badge, was made by Grand President Parnitzke to Mike Mallonee in recognition of his four years as Grand President. Other presentations included Past Grand President Bill Tatum, Director of Alumni Activities Dick won by Douglas A. Simpkins, alumnus of Alpha Gamma Chapter. Several other prize drawings were held and the Farwell Luncheon was concluded.

In closing the Luncheon, Grand President Parnitzke highlighted the outstanding events of the convention; wished everyone a safe trip home and challenged all to be in Dallas, Texas, at the Sheraton Park Central Hotel in August, 1985, for the 35th Grand Chapter Congress.

The 34th Grand Chapter Congress held at the Denver Marriott Hotel Southeast, in suburban Denver, Colorado, from August 14-18, 1983, was truly an experience of "Brotherhood a Mile High" for the 663 members, spouses and guests in attendance. The spirited fraternalism that is Delta Sigma Pi was abundantly evident during those few days as new friendships were formed, old friendships renewed and precious lifetime memories created. The fraternal spirit was strong throughout the business sessions, the social events and the "unofficial events," including the impromptu concert on top of the parking lot deck! These were five days of sharing ideas about chapter operations with Deltasigs from across the nation; learning about and participating in the operations of the national fraternity and just enjoyment of being in the company of great Deltasigs of all ages, chapters and parts of the country.

Newly elected Grand President Richard J. Parnitzke adjourned the Grand Chapter Congress on Thursday afternoon.
