the authority to grant the Masters of Art degree. In 1923 the name of HISTORY OF
WESTERN STATE COLLEGE
State College of OF COLORADO

The objectives of the College are in consonance with the nature and the principles of the institution.
Western State College of Colorado is located in Gunnison which is situated in the high Rocky Mountains and is found to be in the heart of a vast sportsmanlike arena. For the skier, Crested Butte, one of the better ski areas of Colorado, is only thirty miles away. The angler has the Gunnison River, smaller streams, and many lakes in which to try his luck during the summer season. As summer turns into fall, WSC is in the middle of one of the best big game hunting areas of the Colorado Rockies.

Western State College was first established as a two-year institution by the Colorado General Assembly in April of 1901. However, it existed in name only until 1905 at which time Governor Shafroth appropriated $50,000 for the construction of the first building - the present Taylor Hall. With an initial enrollment of 104 students, classes began in September 1911 at Colorado State Normal School, as the college was first called.

In 1920, the Board of Trustees authorized an extension program which made the school a four-year institution that could grant the Bachelor of Arts degree.
It was later extended to a five year institution with the authority to grant the Masters of Art degree. In 1923 the name of the college was changed to Western State College of Colorado.

The objectives of the College are in consonance with the nature and the principles of the institution. They have been developed over the fifty-one year period of the College's growth and expansion. Broadly stated, these objectives are two-fold:

ONE-To provide educational programs that meet the needs of the people of the state as well as the interests of the students. As these needs and interests change, the college will adjust its programs accordingly. In more detail this objective includes the following specific objectives:

1. To provide a liberal arts education for all students. (At the present time, there are 30 academic majors.)
2. To provide teacher education for those students who desire to enter the field of educational service, i.e., elementary schools, secondary schools, administration, supervision, and guidance. An advanced program in this area of study is also available.
3. To provide adequate training in business for those students who desire to enter the field of business as a career.

TWO-To render services to people of the state not in attendance at the college. As a state institution the college is conscious of its responsibility to provide cultural and social services for the people of the state in whatever section they may

The outstanding symbol of Western State College live. The extent of such services must, of necessity, be determined from time to time in accord with the college's available measures about 320' by 420' and personnel and resources of the college.

Western State College is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as a liberal arts college with a professional school of education. It is also accredited by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and has institutional membership in the American Council on Education. It is approved by the American Association of University Women. It is also accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education and is a member of the National Commission on Accrediting. Western State College is approved for attendance of non-immigrant students under the Immigration and Nationality Act.

With Crested Butte ski area so close it is not surprising the WSC manages to field a highly respectable ski team every year. In addition to an outstanding ski team, WSC's football team boasts one of the finest records in the state with a 9-0 record. The Mineral Bowl marked the end to this perfect season when the "Mountaineers" were defeated 14-13 by a powerful North Dakota State team in Excelsior Springs, Missouri. Western State is also noted for its NCAA wrestling championships and its overall athletic program.

The outstanding symbol of Western State College is the "W" on the school-owned Tenderfoot Mountain. The college emblem measures about 320' by 420' and is thus the largest college emblem in the world. This emblem was created on May 2, 1923, when WSC President Samuel Quigley decreed a holiday and the faculty and students carried hundreds of flat rocks and placed them within the borderlines of the outlined "W". This day has marked an annual one day vacation for both students and faculty on which the "W" is whitewashed.

To give students the benefit of a small college, Western State currently plans to limit its enrollment to 3000 students. Incorporated with this limited enrollment is an ever increasing building program of which the Leslie J. Savage Library, a $1.8 million, three-story building, is the newest. There are also many other buildings to be built in the future which are now in the planning stage. The plans for these buildings have been based on the idea of housing over 75% of the limited enrollment on the campus proper.

As Western State actively promotes and redefines its objectives, seeks to upgrade its faculty and students, and carries on an active, well-planned building program, one can see a brilliant future for WSC and its students.

Introduction

Higher education for business is essentially a product of the present century. It is the outgrowth of the demands of a democratic society for education to meet the needs of its industrial system. Business education at the college and university level has, therefore, grown at a phenomenal rate. One out of every seven degrees awarded by institutions of higher learning in the United States is in business administration. To develop the necessary skills and understanding of business principles

Over the past fifteen years twenty-three per cent of the students who attended Western State College selected their major in the Division of Business. Of the majors in business, sixty-four per cent were in business administration; twenty-one per cent, in office administration and fifteen per cent, in accounting. This information shows that the number of students majoring in business at Western State College is above the national average.

The fall enrollment figures at W.S.C. show that the Division of Business has 422 majors which is the largest number of majors in any division in the college.

6. To provide the opportunity for students to gain practical experiences in the art of teaching.

Purposes and Objectives

7. To provide background courses for students

The Division of Business was first established in the year 1948. Major areas were established in Business Administration, Accounting, and Secretarial Science, now known as Office Administration, and the purposes and objectives were also established.

In addition to the purposes and objectives as set up by Western State College, the Division of Business established the following purposes and objectives:

2. To provide the opportunity for students to gain practical experiences in the art of teaching.

Purposes of the Division. The Division of Business is designed to serve the following purposes:

1. To develop the necessary skills and understanding of business principles for students entering business courses.
2. To assist students in acquiring the skills, knowledges, and understandings essential in the teaching of business courses.
3. To enable students to gain sufficient information and skills to help them in their personal economic planning, in their buying for consumption, and in safe-guarding and protecting their interests as consumers.
4. To enable students to gain a better understanding of the agencies, functions, methods, and organization of business enterprise.
5. To develop an understanding of business ethics and provide an opportunity for its practical application.

6. To provide the opportunity for students to gain practical experiences in the art of decision making.

7. To provide background courses for students planning to enter advanced business study.

Purposes of the Majors. In addition to the general objectives of the Division listed above, each major has specific objectives.

Office Administration. It is the purpose of the office administration major:

1. To provide the training necessary for the students preparing to teach business courses, especially at the secondary level.

2. To provide the opportunity for students to develop the skills, attitudes and knowledges necessary to become professional secretaries.

Accounting. It is the purpose of the accounting major:

1. To prepare students for careers in the general management and other activities of modern business and public enterprises.

2. To provide students with the requisite functional training for efficient, effective performance in the business organization.

Growth of the Division of Business

There has been a steady growth in the number of students majoring in business administration since the school year of 1953-54. In the fall of 1953, there were 29 students who selected business administration as their major (see table below). The number of graduate majors in this area of business increased to 214 for the year 1962-63.

The degree offered is the Master of Arts in Business with major emphasis in either accounting, business administration, or teacher education. Teacher education is offered jointly by the Division of Business and the School of Education. A minimum of 45 hours is required when a candidate has undergraduate background. A thesis is optional for any candidate.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

A graduate program in business has recently been instituted at Western State with the purpose of strengthening the undergraduate business program and of meeting the demands of students desiring to continue their education beyond the bachelor's degree. This graduate program makes it possible for students to receive business training for a broad, but rigorous kind that emphasizes the basic fields of business, social sciences, and analytical methods beyond the undergraduate liberal arts program.

This program has not been hastily put together in the last year or so. The current program is the result of much serious thought and work on the part of faculty and administration members of this college and of other colleges and universities throughout the state. There has also been much collaboration between these people and the North Central Association.

The present program has been designed for both graduates who majored in business as undergraduates and for graduates who majored in some other area as undergraduates.

The degree offered is the Master of Arts in Business with major emphasis in either accounting, business administration, or teacher education. Teacher education is offered jointly by the Division of Business and the School of Education. A minimum of 45 hours is required when a candidate has the required undergraduate background. A thesis is optional for any candidate.

CONCLUSION

As the business world becomes increasingly more complex, Western State will continue to revise and upgrade its business program, on both the undergraduate and graduate levels, so that it may supply to the business world the highly competent and creative people which it is continually looking for.

HISTORY OF WESTERN STATE COLLEGE

BUSINESS CLUB

On February 24, 1964, a meeting of male business majors enrolled at W.S.C. was held. The feeling of those in attendance was that some type of organization should be established which could benefit the college and the business student.

The W.S.C. Business Club was the outcome of this meeting. It was to be through this Club that the business student could gain a better understanding of the commercial world and the society within which it operates. The Club was not to be a substitute for academic learning, but to complement it. It would give to the member some practical and professional experience which is so often neglected in his college curriculum.

Officers elected for the remainder of the 1964 school term were:

President - Bill Finlay
Senior Vice-President - Toby Johnson
Vice-President - Don Snow
Treasurer - Bill Ferguson
Secretary - Ed Dutcher
Historian - Bill Terrill

Several of these officers were re-elected to executive capacities for the 1964-65 school term. The result of this action was to give the Club an experienced leadership for the present year. Lest one get the impression that the Club will be without able leaders had started last year, the Club held two professional

As one of the business faculty was an alumnus of Delta Sigma Pi, the goal of affiliating with a national fraternity very early guided the Club's activities. It was this broad span of representation that gave the symposium much of its value.

The Constitution and By-Laws which were adopted in April, 1964, had been written with this goal in mind.

The fall term also saw the Club begin a vigorous search for promising new members. The culmination of this search was January 16. On this date the Club held its first, and we hope our last as a local organization, meetings and one social function before the end of the 1964 term. One of these was especially enlightening; it consisted of a Business Symposium in Denver sponsored by the National Chamber of Commerce at which six Club representatives were present. Discussion was centered around economic and social questions such as the role of profits, and technology and unemployment. Many of the students attending this symposium were majoring in areas outside of the commerce areas. It was this broad span of representation that gave the symposium much of its value.

The fall term also saw the Club begin a vigorous search for promising new members. The culmination of this search was January 16. On this date the Club held its first, and we hope our last as a local organization, formal membership initiation ceremony. The initiation also included a banquet given in honor of the new members. Nine pledges became active members which thus brings total Club membership to twenty-seven. Three eligible pledges were unable to attend this initiation ceremony.

As the two quarter eligibility requirement for freshmen is nearly three-fourths expired, the membership committee will soon undertake a pledge campaign among these students.

At the beginning of the 1964-65 school term, the Club set out to make itself known and appreciated in Gunnison. It gave food to a local needy family at Thanksgiving and helped the town's merchants cut Christmas tree decorations for the town. The Club also made contacts with many businessmen in the Denver area with the purpose of organizing some industry tours during the spring term.

Information was received on both international business fraternities, and work was immediately begun in evaluating the requirements of each. Much work had already been done in this area when the Club met with Mr. James Flynn, field representative, on December 1, 1964. This prior work and the favorable impression made by Mr. Flynn combined to make possible a majority vote in favor of petitioning Delta Sigma Pi.

In retrospect the accomplishments of the Club to date may seem trivial when compared to those of other petitioning groups, but nevertheless, the Club is proud of its work. The future seems to hold much promise for this Club as the Club becomes more settled on its foundation and thus is able to undertake more and bigger projects.

The business club members have worked long and hard as a closely knit group to attain their goals. They have established an enviable position in the community by working with various business leaders and professional organizations. This organization would be appreciated.

I have worked, taught and travelled with the business club members and I sincerely desire that my association with them may be for a long period of time. For the past year, we have had a Business Club on our campus. This organization has been very active in campus affairs since its inception. It has been indicated that this group would like to affiliate with Delta ~~Xi~~ Sigma Psi, a national fraternity.

"Business" is the most rapidly growing major at Western State College. At this time, approximately one-fourth of our students major in this field. From the activities of the Club during the past year, I would judge the leadership and initiative to be excellent.

Your thoughtful consideration of the application of this organization would be appreciated.

To Whom it May Concern:

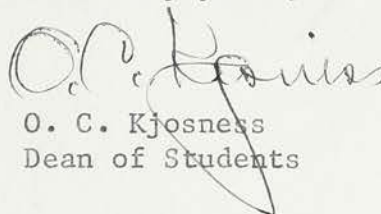

A Business Club, having been in existence on the Western State College campus for about one year, wishes to become affiliated with Delta Sigma Psi, a national professional fraternity.

In the interest of the Business Club, may I state to you that the club was first established in February 1963, with 18 members. At the present time, the membership has increased to 33 members. This club of individuals has demonstrated a great deal of initiative and all members have worked on various club committees with a 99 per cent record attendance.

The Business Club has demonstrated to the college that it is sincere in its objective of encouraging scholarship and in furthering a high standard of ethics, culture, and civics in the community as well as the college.

Any consideration which you may be able to give the application of the Business Club will be greatly appreciated.

SUBJECT: Professional Business Fraternity

The Division of Business of Western State College is very anxious to organize a professional business fraternity on the campus of Western State College. The entire college has always been receptive to organized honorary and professional fraternities.

It is our opinion that professional fraternities offer an excellent opportunity for students to develop professional leadership. It also offers members valuable contact and friendship with men whose training is similar to theirs.

If Western State College is granted permission to organize a professional fraternity in business, the faculty and administration will give full approval for this type of organization.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

The Western State College Business Club was organized February 24, 1963, and has been very active on this campus since that date. They have, in my opinion, a very fine group of interested and active members. I have had occasion to work with some of the group in inviting outstanding speakers to visit the campus.

It has come to my attention that this group desires to affiliate with a National Business Fraternity. I believe that they would become a distinct asset to the fraternity of their choice and therefore recommend favorable consideration of their application, as I am convinced that such affiliation would be in the best interests of both organizations.
